County Eyes Program For Mental Health

Jan. 27 Hearing Scheduled On Setting Up Board

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m., Jan. 27 on the possibility of developing a county mental health services program under California's Short-Doyle Act.

Speakers at the hearing, to be held in the county courthouse, will include a representative of the state Department of Public Health and county officials familiar with Short-Doyle provisions and procedures. Marin County citizens also will be invited to express opinions.

The supervisors yesterday voted to ask five county officials to submit a list of persons for possible appointment to a mental health advisory board.

BOARD CONSIDERED

Whether such a board will actually be established will depend on the outcome of the Jan. 27 hearing.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen recommended creation of an advisory board to assist in preparing a budget for consideration by the supervisors. To qualify for Short-Doyle funds, he said, the county must identify its various psychiatric appropriations in a single budget.

Under the act, the state and local communities share 50-50 in the cost of operating mental health clinics.

Jensen said the advisory board also could advise the supervisors on future mental health developments, pending legislation and other matters.

GROUP MANDATORY

While an advisory board is mandatory for participation in the Short-Doyle program, its establishment would not mean a definite commitment to participate, Jensen said.

Under the law, Jensen said, the board's membership must include three doctors engaged in private practice, including one psychiatrist; two private citizens "representative of the public interest in mental health," a superior court judge selected by the county's judges and the chairman of the board of supervisors.

Supervisor Vera Schultz wanted to appoint a board prior to the hearing. She was promptly challenged by Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who said, "Now, you know as well as I do that that's putting a foot in the door."

It would, said Fusselman, be "the beginning of definitive action because it's one of the steps in the Short-Doyle procedure."

OPPOSITION CITED

In his successful plea for a public hearing "before any action is taken," Fusselman noted that "there is apparently a great amount of determined opposition to this thing."

Names of prospective mental health advisory board members will be submitted by Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., county physician; Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer; Betty L. Presley, county welfare director; Walter Busher, chief probation officer, and Leonard A. Thomas, public defender.

JOHN F. McCONNELL
Hospital aide resigns

O'Connell Quits Marin General Hospital Board

John F. O'Connell, president of the board of directors of the Marin County Hospital District, late yesterday afternoon submitted his resignation at a special board meeting at Marin General Hospital.

O'Connell said his resignation was necessary because of the pressure of work. He is vice president of Bechtel Corp., international building and engineering firm.

"My participation in the activities of Marin General Hospital has been a great personal satisfaction to me. I am particularly proud to have had a part in establishing the hospital's high standards of service," O'Connell said.

O'Connell was elected to a four-year term in 1948 and re-elected in 1952 and 1956. He was elected president four years ago. His term would have expired in 1960.

Directors agreed to act on the resignation at a Jan. 27 regular meeting.

Mrs. Marion C. Ibach, board secretary, told O'Connell, "Your counsel is so valuable I hope we will have a Marin General Hospital Citizens' Advisory Committee in the future through which we can continue to have your invaluable guidance."

The special meeting at 5:30 p.m. was called to discuss a personnel policy and job classification proposal of S. Ames Pence, administrator.

The proposal, portions of which were approved, sets a standard salary scale for the various job classifications.

Pence and attorney Harold Reide were authorized to attend a Jan. 21-22 meeting in Los Angeles of the State Advisory Hospital Council.

Houses Split As Congress Gavel Pounds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new 86th Congress convened today already torn by wrangling over Republican leadership posts and the ground rules for a looming new battle on civil rights.

The bang of gavels in Senate and House chambers launched the session before packed galleries gay with the bright dresses of admiring women folk of the members.

PRESSURE HIGH

But beneath the normal hearts and flowers atmosphere, collective blood pressures were seldom higher for an opening session.

Senate Republicans had just come from a party caucus where the old guard put down an insurgent rebellion and named Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, a 1952 supporter of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, as party floor leader.

SPLIT DOWN MIDDLE

House Republicans were split right down the middle as the result of a scrap yesterday that saw Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts ousted as party leader after 20 years at the helm. Named to replace him was Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

And senators of both parties were taking sides for a possibly prolonged battle over that body's rules. The issue: whether to make it easier to cut off filibusters—the endless debate that backers of more federal protection for Negro voting rights have contended is the main weapon used to defeat such legislation.

NIXON VIEW

Vice President Richard M. Nixon told the Senate it has the right to adopt new rules by a majority vote.

The explosive question of changing the rules—with emphasis on a move to provide a means for choking off filibust-

DAVID R. BATY
Youth succeeds age

Baty Appointed Northwest Marin Judge

Attorney David R. Baty, 31, of San Rafael, will be the new judge of Marin's Northwest Judicial District, succeeding 87-year-old Judge Silas L. Stice, whose resignation became effective Monday.

Supervisor James A. Marshall of Tomales nominated Baty for appointment to a six-year term yesterday. His colleagues on the board of supervisors quickly confirmed the selection.

Marshall said Baty had agreed to establish residence in West Marin and open a law practice there. The appointment is to become effective when Baty qualifies as a voter in the Northwest Judicial District, Marshall said.

Baty, who will be 32 years old on Jan. 22, was born in Chicago. He received his law degree from Stanford University in 1954. He was formerly a teacher of history, English and French at Dominican Convent and Katharine Branson School. He served as an enlisted man in the Navy during World War II. He is a Democrat.

He and his wife, Suzanne, and sons David Jr., 2, and Tom, 1, reside at 403 Jewell street, San Rafael. His father, E. N. Baty, is a Paradise Cove resident.

Another Storm To Bring Heavy Winds Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Another winter storm with gale winds and heavy rains was expected to sweep down upon Northern California late today and tonight.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecast occasional precipitation today from Stockton and Monterey northward, increasing to heavy downpours tonight and tomorrow. Gale warnings were hoisted from Cape Blanco in Oregon to Point Sur early today with 30 to 50 m.p.h. southerly winds expected.

The weatherman said the storm would bring a heavy snow fall to the Sierra. However, temperatures were expected to remain near seasonal normals throughout the northern part of the state, according to the bureau's five-day projected forecast.

Chances of rain for the Bay Area were better than 90 per cent tonight and tomorrow.

The thermometer was expected to reach a high of 55 in the Bay Area today with a low of 52 tonight. Southerly winds will increase to 30 to 40 m.p.h. locally with stronger gusts by late tonight.

Major highways through the mountains were reported open but chains were required.

Majority In Assembly Introduces Fair Employment Practices Law

SACRAMENTO (AP) — More than 50 of California's 80 assemblymen joined today in introducing legislation urged by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to give the state its first FEPC law.

The list of co-authors easily assured Assembly passage of the measure creating a Fair Employment Practices Commission with power to police job discrimination.

Proponents expressed hope the new Democratic look would clear the way for the bill in the Senate where similar legislation has never gone beyond committee. But, they said, they expect no walkaway.

Fifty four assemblymen in all signed the bill, including 11 Republicans.

Brown hailed the proposed FEPC statute as long overdue.

"This is an area in which we have lagged behind other progressive states," he said. "The experience there indicates that this legislation will go a long way toward eliminating job discrimination."

Brown, who called for anti-discrimination measures in his inaugural address, issued his statement after conferring Tuesday with 15 assemblymen and 3 senators, all Democrats.

The group agreed to introduce the bill today.

The bill provides for the governor's appointment of a five-man Fair Employment Practices Commission, with enforcement power. It would prohibit job discrimination because of race, religious creed,

Sausalito Votes Metered Parking On Sundays, Too

Parking meters will tick on Sundays in Sausalito hereafter.

The Sausalito City Council, by 4-1 vote, last night approved a plan for Sunday meter operation.

Councilman George E. Keeney dissented.

The change was proposed by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce. The council agreed some arrangement will have to be worked out for parking at the Christian Science and Presbyterian Churches, which are in the metered zone.

A proposal to ban parking on downtown streets during early morning hours was put off without action.

Auto Insurance Rates For Marinites Decreased

Auto insurance rates in Marin went down today.

Revised rates for California, effective today, were announced by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Assn. For most of the state, the rates are increased; but for Marin, they are decreased.

Marin car owners will receive the maximum decreases both for liability and comprehensive insurance, noted Max S. Martin, president of the Marin Assn. of Insurance Agents.

The National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters sets rates for liability insurance, and the National Automobile Underwriters Assn., for automobile material damage insurance. Most insurance companies are subscribers to both.

Changes in liability rates for family cars with no male driver under 25 vary from a $9 per year increase to a $3 decrease, Martin noted. Marin receives the $3 decrease.

Where cars are operated principally by males under 25, the rate changes vary from a $28 increase to an $11 decrease. Again, Marin receives the maximum decrease.

The new schedule for full comprehensive and $50 deductible collision coverage, with no male driver under 25, is left unchanged in most California areas, with increases in others ranging to $8 and decreases to

COLONEL ROUTS LION WITH FLASHLIGHT

Col. E. Carl Engelhart heard the padding of feet on the sundeck of his home at 915 Meadowsweet drive, Corte Madera, at 11:30 o'clock last night.

The colonel stepped out and pressed the button on a powerful flashlight. Caught in the light's rays as it poised near the sundeck rail, he reported, was a fawn-colored animal, about two feet tall and weighing perhaps 100 pounds. After a moment's terror, the animal leaped off the sundeck to the ground nine feet below, retreated to a corner of the yard, took another look at Engelhart, leaped over the fence and ran away.

"That was no dog," said Colonel Engelhart. "That was a mountain lion."

Miller Asks Study Of Bodega Damage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Small Business Administration today agreed to inspect gale damage to docks and fishing craft in Bodega Bay, Calif., to determine whether the area would qualify for disaster loans.

Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Calif.) enlisted the agency's interest after being advised that a storm had destroyed 15 boats and a fuel dock and seriously damaged the only repair dock.

GOP Senate Rebellion Fails, Dirksen Elected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans today chose Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to be their floor leader for the new session of Congress.

He defeated Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky 20-14, with all 34 Republican senators participating.

By a similar 20-14 margin Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California was chosen whip or assistant floor leader.

The Dirksen victory was a defeat for the group of self-styled progressive or liberal senators led by Sen. George Aiken of Vermont.

Emerging from the two-hour closed-door session, Aiken smiled and said the results "were the democratic processes at work."

Conservative forces were quarterbacked by Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

Kuchel was the candidate of the Liberal group and his election should give them additional prestige in legislative actions.

Re-elected without opposition were Bridges as chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts as chairman of the Conference of All Republicans and Sen. Milton Young of North Dakota as secretary of the conference.

Kuchel's opponent was Karl Mundt of South Dakota, advanced at the last hour by the conservative group.

Alvin Schultz Quits As Head Of Marin Taxpayers Assn.

Another reorganization of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. was in prospect today with disclosure that president Alvin Schultz of Greenbrae and two other officers have resigned.

P. J. Rowland of San Anselmo has quit as executive secretary, but continues to serve as a director. Mrs. V. J. Bloom of San Rafael has resigned as treasurer.

Acting president since Schultz resigned is John C. Nason of 316 Ralston avenue, Mill Valley, a textile agent. Nason, who moved up from the first vice presidency, said today he does not have time to serve as president of the taxpayers group and will call a special meeting, probably next week, for election of new officers.

Schultz, elected president of the association last April in a major reorganization which swept Tom McDougall of Mill Valley out of the presidency which he had held for two years, said today he resigned because of the pressure of private business.

Supervisors Crush Apartment Plan Of Builder Rowley

Public Protest Brings Abandonment Of Meadowsweet District Project

A long-cherished dream of Tiburon builder Frederick C. Rowley was shattered by the Marin County Board of Supervisors last night in the face of public opposition described as "violent, considered and overwhelming."

Conceding defeat of his plan to erect 52 apartment units in the Meadowsweet district south of Corte Madera, Rowley rejected a board decision permitting only 35 units and gave up the whole idea.

"Why don't we drop this thing here and now, ladies and gentlemen?" said Rowley after the supervisors voted 3-2 to return the apartment master plan to the county planning commission on the basis of a 35-unit development.

Rowley said he and his associates had made it "very clear to the planning commission and its staff that we were not interested in anything less than 52 units."

'CAN'T DO IT'

"We can't go ahead. We can't do it," he told the board. Then, turning to the 50 or more persons who jammed the supervisors' chambers, Rowley said: "I don't want to go back through this whole thing all over again, and I know these people don't want to, either. So I suggest here and now, let's drop it."

But Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who offered the motion, would not relent. He pointed out that while Rowley may not wish to proceed with a 35-unit development, the owners of the 3.45-acre property had not been heard from. They are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Balzarini and Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan C. Moats, who last summer won county approval of planned-residential rezoning permitting apartment construction on the acreage.

Fusselman said he will move that the rezoning revert to limited agricultural use "if we get a legal statement from the owners and the developer saying they want to drop their plan once and for all, and if the form of the statement is approved by our county counsel."

35 UNITS FAVORED

The previous zoning permitted only one-family homes and required a minimum lot size of 10,000 square feet.

After the Balzarini-Moats rezoning was approved last summer, Rowley presented a master plan calling for 64 apartment units in six three-story buildings. The county planning staff, which had opposed the rezoning, recommended 35 units to conform with the duplex density called for by the Corte Madera master plan. After considerable hagging, the planning commission overrode the staff recommendation and set the figure at 52, Rowley's "rock-bottom minimum."

The Meadowsweet Improvement Assn. fought the apartment plan from its inception. In petitions, briefs and oral statements, association members said the proposed development would destroy a one-family residential "green belt" area, lead to further apartment construction, jam the area with new residents, overload school classrooms and create serious traffic problems.

Supporters of the Rowland plan, including owners of property immediately surrounding the Balzarini-Moats acreage, retaliated with petitions of their own.

'LOVE OF HOME'

The battle lines were sharply drawn when last night's hearing opened. Peter Allen Smith, attorney for the opponents, introduced a procession of speakers who condemned Rowland's plan. Julius H. Selinger, Rowland's attorney, in defense of the plan said foresight appeared to have yielded to "emotion and the nostalgic love of home." He was followed by a succession of pro-apartment speakers.

Mary Summers, county planning director, and David Van Pelt, of her staff, retraced the history of the proposal. John Adlard, chairman of the Corte Madera Planning Commission, urged conformance with the town's general plan.

Fusselman's motion sending the apartment issue back to the planners was opposed by Supervisor Vera Schultz and Walter R. Castro. They agreed with Rowley and Selinger that the development plan should have been killed then and there.

Enrollment Up In Classes At San Quentin

Enrollment in San Quentin Prison's winter academic quarter yesterday was up about 20 per cent over last quarter, according to figures released today.

Both elementary and high school classes were filled on the first day of registration and "we could probably use half as many more classrooms and instructors," a prison spokesman said.

Of the 4,929 inmates, 1,754 are attending school. This compares with 1,414 who took classes in the fall. Signed up for elementary courses are 968 men and 786 are taking high school subjects. Classes are offered both day and night.

Several classes were added to accommodate the heavy enrollment. Included were an additional fifth grade section, a night remedial arithmetic class, and business organization and management, which is offered on the high school level for the first time.

Roy E. Butler is supervisor of academic instruction at the institution.

North and South Dakota were divided into two states in 1887.

2nd Tipsy Driving Count Brings $250 Fine, Jail

Charles W. Beaver, 57, retired Sebastopol man, must spend five days in Marin County Jail and pay $250 fine for his second drunken driving offense.

Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Beaver yesterday afternoon. Beaver was arrested yesterday morning on Highway 101. He had a prior conviction in Santa Rosa in October of 1954.

Terra Lindans Get Fire Truck

The Terra Linda Community Services District yesterday obtained delivery of its long-awaited second fire truck, a 750-gallon-per-minute pumper secured from the Menlo Park Fire Department under a lease-purchase agreement arranged by the First National Bank in San Rafael.

William Adams, Terra Linda volunteer fireman, drove the truck from Menlo Park. After getting a paint job, it will be kept in the district's nearly completed firehouse on Del Ganado road. The station will be dedicated at a ceremony Jan. 18.

The new truck, a 1942 La France, and related fire equipment will cost the district $4,998. A group of volunteers went to Menlo Park Sunday to receive instruction in operation of the heavy rig. It will supplement the district's 250-gallon-per-minute pumper.

Noting that Terra Linda Oaks Unit 9, a new subdivision south of Manuel T. Freitas parkway, is beyond district boundaries, directors instructed General Manager Jack Brandon to ask the county counsel's office if the district legally could furnish the tract with fire protection.

In other matters last night, the district board:

Appointed Mrs. Virginia Hooke of 621 Woodbine drive as secretary, replacing Mrs. Beverly Closson, resigned. The position pays $25 a month.

Received payments of $300 and $2,794 from Sarco, Inc., to cover cost of landscaping in and around the Terra Linda Shopping Center for one year. The work will be done by Marin Garden and Supply Co. of San Rafael.

Heroism Award Given Marin Phone Worker

A $1,000 heroism award to a Mill Valley telephone installer-repairman was announced today by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The cash award accompanies the Bell System's Silver Vail Medal, one of the system's highest awards to public service. The recipient is J. Stanley Woodward, 31, of 53 Shell road, Mill Valley, who rescued another Mill Valley man from a tall tree on Dec. 9, 1957.

'BLACKED OUT'

On that date, Woodward answered an emergency call to aid a man who had "blacked out" while trimming a eucalyptus tree.

He found Joe Fernandez of Los Angeles hanging in his loop of rope, 40 feet above the ground. Fernandez had been employed to trim trees on the property of Lance Robinson at 123 Edgewood avenue, Mill Valley.

A rope the stricken man had tied around his chest before losing consciousness was looped over a limb above him and anchored to a log at the base of the tree. This saved him from plunging to death, but threatened to shut off his breathing.

SLIDING SLING

Working against time, Woodward climbed the tree and passed another line over a limb. From it, he made a sliding sling. Then, after instructing observers below to slack off the old line, he eased the helpless man safely to the ground.

Woodward, married and the father of four, has been a P.T. and T. employee for five years.

Vail medals, named in memory of Theodore N. Vail, pioneer president of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. (the Bell System parent company), have been given since 1920 to recognize outstanding public service by telephone employees.

$1,000 Blaze Burns Barn Near Fairfax

A barn containing about 500 tons of hay was engulfed by flames this morning at the Smith Brothers' ranch west of Fairfax near White's Hill.

Probable cause was a cigarette or match tossed into the hay by a smoker, county firemen said.

Damage to the barn, equipment and hay was estimated at $1,000.

Three trucks from the county fire house at Woodacre under Asst. Chief Louis Bloom responded to the 7:23 a.m. alarm. Three hours later, firemen still were carrying smoldering hay out of the barn.

PRESIDENTIAL PLEDGE — Cuba's President Manuel Urrutia waxes enthusiastic as he explains his new government policies during a visit to the University of Havana yesterday. Urrutia told the students the Cuban people will be the sovereign power and pledged an honest regime. (AP Wirephoto)

Cuban Regime Begins Reconstruction Program

HAVANA (UPI) — President Manuel Urrutia's ministers reported to their offices for the first time today to launch the revolutionary government's program of reconstruction and reform.

Urrutia held his first formal cabinet meeting last night, just a few hours after he had dissolved the Cuban congress and announced he would rule by decree for the next 18 months.

The new president has emphasized that his government would concentrate on a raising Cuba's living standards, especially in the rural areas.

He planned to implement the 26th of July movement's land reform program calling for breaking up of the state-owned lands into five-acre parcels which would be deeded to the tenant farmers now working them.

ROAD BUILDING PLANNED

The government also planned a road rebuilding program designed to assist the sugar industry in making its 1959 harvest. Another project would facilitate the development of the mining industry, especially Oriente Province.

The revolutionary regime appeared stronger than ever after a 24-hour factional dispute that threatened to split the rebel forces.

Signs of recovery were visible.

Garbage trucks resumed service, picking up refuse that has accumulated in the gutters and streets since New Year's Eve.

Banks reopened in Havana and the provincial cities.

Telephone service was resumed between Havana and the provincial capitals of Santa Clara and Camaguey.

The airlines resumed normal schedules to the interior of the island.

MASSACRED BODIES

But there were signs too of the bitter days of the past.

Castro rebel forces discovered 57 bodies in a mass grave at nearby Santa Cruz Del Norte. The dead were believed to be victims of a Batista police massacre.

Reports from Camaguey said a rebel firing squad executed three Batista officials condemned by a summary court martial. This brought to eight the number of such "executions."

U.S., Canada Thrash Out Trade Issues

OTTAWA (AP)—The United States and Canada have agreed to consult more closely on issues that can hurt each other's trade.

Ending 24 hours of talks between Cabinet members of the two neighbors, a 1,500-word communique last night announced:

1. Wheat experts of the two countries will meet every three months in attempts to resolve Canadian complaints that subsidized disposal of American surplus wheat cuts into Canada's commercial markets.

2. More talks will take place on U. S. restrictions on import of Canadian oil.

3. The United States expressed hope it could withdraw its import curbs on lead and zinc once some international agreement is reached among major suppliers and buyers.

4. Cabinet spokesmen will hold talks on U. S. prosecution of three big electronic companies whose subsidiaries operate a patent pool in Canada. Canada wants the suit dropped. The U. S. said it has no intention of infringing on Canadian sovereignty.

5. Canada will study an American proposal to set up an international development association affilated with the World Bank.

The talks were on the fourth annual meeting of the Joint Canada-U. S. Committee on Trade and Economic Affairs.

Red Firing On Quemoy Heaviest In 2 Months

TAIPEI (AP) — The Chinese Communists pounded the Quemoy Islands today with their heaviest fire in two months.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry reported more than 12,000 Red shells landed on the offshore islands between 2 and 4 p.m. and said the bombardment was continuing without a letup.

The Ministry said the Nationalist guns fire back vigorously.

It was the heaviest Communist firing since Nov. 3 when 39,162 shells were fired during an 18-hour period. And the rate of fire this afternoon virtually equaled the hardest shelling on Nov. 3, some 36,000 shells in 6 hours.

The heavy Communist bombardment was expected. The Reds had charged the Nationalists with shelling a commune nursery on the mainland Saturday and threatened a severe attack in reprisal. The Nationalists denounced the charge and said the Communists had made it as a pretext for resuming intensive shelling of Quemoy.

West Coast's First Satellite Launching Due

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 1,300-pound satellite—the first ever to be launched on the West Coast—is on its pad at Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Some time within the next few days, Project Discoverer will be under way, headed for a Pole-to-Pole orbit.

A dozen or more Discoverer satellites will be launched from the California coast this year, each of them carrying hundreds of pounds of instruments to tell man what he will face when he ventures into space. Some also will carry mice and, later, monkeys.

The Discoverer satellites will be pointed southward to orbit around the earth from Pole to Pole. The first few are expected to stay aloft for only a matter of hours before they plummet back to burn up in the earth's atmosphere.

Before they do, however, they will eject a capsule containing instruments — and any animal passengers — which can be recovered by Air Force and Navy search crews.

MARTIN CONGRATULATES HALLECK — Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, right, congratulates Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana yesterday after House Republicans voted to toss out Martin as their floor leader and replace him with Halleck. The vote was 74 to 70 on the second ballot. (AP Wirephoto)

Nixon Accused Of Directing Republican Party Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is getting the credit or blame—whether he deserves either or not—for being the directing influence behind some changes in the Republican party.

Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, ousted yesterday as House minority leader, pointed a finger in Nixon's direction in accounting for his defeat by Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

Asked if the vice president had a hand in bringing about his overthrow, Martin replied, "All I know is that his people were against me—actively against me."

Martin went on to say that some White House aides had met a month ago with Halleck and implied they were against his re-election because "I was a little more independent than I should be—of them."

Halleck denied any White House intervention. There was no comment from Nixon.

Senate Republican liberals, rebelling against installing Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois as party floor leader, have denied Nixon has aided them in any way.

It has been Nixon's contention that the GOP has failed to sell itself to the average voter and that the Democrats won their victories last November because they had projected the idea they were for the little man.

Alto Board To Meet

Directors of the Alto Sanitary District Board will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the firehouse, according to chairman Sidney L. Chapin. The meeting, usually held the first Monday of the month, was postponed due to lack of a quorum.

Rockefeller Asks Millions More In Taxes

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller launched his administration today by telling New Yorkers they must pay millions more in state taxes.

The new Republican governor declared in his first annual message to the Legislature that the state's fiscal affairs had fallen into "a serious condition of deterioration" under Democrat Averell Harriman.

"Much as we deplore the facts," he said, "conditions require additional tax revenues now."

Rockefeller said he was struggling with a deficit of "at least 230 million dollars" in the new budget.

He said he would spell out his tax proposals in the budget message, which he must submit to the GOP-controlled Senate and Assembly by Feb. 1.

The governor's 7,000-word message hewed strictly to state problems, unlike his inaugural message, which carried strong international overtones and prompted new speculation on Rockefeller's White House potential.

OUT TO PASTURE

Joe Martin Sick At Heart After Losing 20-Year Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Joe Martin laid aside the cane he had used since last summer when he suffered a blood clot in his leg. He marched jauntily into his party's caucus armed with a two-page testimonial from Dr. Paul Dudley White, the heart specialist. Dr. White pronounced him recovered and in the peak of condition.

When Martin left the closed-door session in the House chamber two hours later, Dr. White's letter lay crumpled in his pocket. Joe made his slow way, limping, through Statuary Hall and back to his office. He was tired. He was 74. The sickness he felt in his heart was not the kind Dr. White treats.

After 20 years as House Republican leader or speaker, Joe Martin had been turned out to pasture. Tears he wasn't willing to shed welled up in his eyes.

His old friends had voted 74 to 70, to replace him as party leader with Charlie Halleck, his rival.

"They did what is done for all dead men," Joe told reporters afflicted with unaccustomed lumps in their throats. They sent flowers.

SPEECH BLOOPERS

Joe never had been much of a speaker. But some members lately had said the bloopers and tongue-twisters for which his speeches were famous were getting more chuckles than votes.

Once, as speaker during a Republican congress, Martin recognized "the gentleman from Halleck, Mr. Indiana." With the same Charlie Halleck, as chairman of an escort committee, in mind, Martin on another occasion introduced Syngman Rhee as "President of Indiana—India—I mean Korea."

Joe always joined in the laughter. Yesterday, there seemed nothing to laugh about.

Bolinas Directors Meet

Directors of the Bolinas Public Utility District will hold a postponed meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the country store, according to Samuel H. Bourne, chairman. The meeting, usually held the first Monday of each month, was postponed because of the storm.

Sausalito Firm Gets Tam Firehouse Job

G. J. Elkington & Sons of Sausalito were successful bidders yesterday for the contract to build a new county firehouse on Mt. Tamalpais.

The Elkington bid of $32,048 was substantially under architect Henry Schubart's estimate of $39,000. Four other bids ranged from $35,995 up to $41,472.

When complete, the structure will house three fire trucks and a crew of firemen. Plans call for a day room and a duty room. It is scheduled for construction on an acre site a short distance up the fire trail from the Mountain Home restaurant on Panoramic highway.

Greens Burned In Belvedere, Corte Madera

The glow of burning Christmas trees was seen last night in both Belvedere and Corte Madera, despite earlier decision to abandon the tree burning in Belvedere.

At Belvedere, a "Twelfth Night" program without the tree burning had been scheduled after the fire department objected to burning a huge pile of Christmas trees as "too dangerous." But last night, firemen put the torch experimentally to a small pile of trees, then decided the fire was not so dangerous after all and added others to the pier.

In Corte Madera, about 400 persons attended the Epiphany service of Holy Innocents Episcopal Church, which concluded with a tree burning on a traffic island in front of the church.

The Rev. Tod W. Ewald, rector, said Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. had asked that the burning not be held because of danger to overhead lead cables. He said the company, however, sent men before the service who put insulation around the cables. No damage was reported. Father Ewald called the service "just perfect."

JOHN C. OGLESBY
Quits engineer's job

John Oglesby Resigns Post At Sausalito

John C. Oglesby, Sausalito city engineer, resigned last night in a letter to the council asking that it be effective Jan. 31.

He was not present at the meeting.

Although his letter gave no reason for the action, Oglesby said today that "pressure of my other duties makes the action advisable."

Oglesby, known as the dean of civil engineers in Marin County, told the Independent-Journal he has no plan to resign as city engineer in three other cities which he serves—San Anselmo, Larkspur and Ross.

Oglesby was named Sausalito city engineer in 1944 when John B. Ehlen, now city attorney, was mayor. He also had served as Sausalito's engineer for several years sometime earlier.

INSURANCE

$16. Marin receives a $7 decrease.

Martin noted that companies subscribing to the association's schedules also offer, beginning today, a new-type coverage which provides $50 deductible of the comprehensive as well as the collision benefits. This will make possible a rate saving up to 55 per cent, he declared.

Commercial automobile fire rates were reduced by 10 per cent today, along with the other insurance rate changes, Martin reported.

As examples of the old and new rates:

For basic liability coverage ($5,000-$10,000-$5,000 bodily injury and property damage) on family cars with no male driver under 25, the old rate was $50 and the new rate is $47—a 6 per cent cut. (San Francisco, for the same coverage, gets an increase from $88 to $97.)

For similar cars with married drivers under 25, the Marin rate goes down from $95 to $87. With single drivers under 25, it goes from $180 down to $169.

For family cars used commercially, the Marin rate is decreased from $75 to $71.

Full comprehensive and $50 deductive collision coverage in Marin, with adult drivers, is decreased from $92 to $85. (San Francisco gets a cut in this category, too, from $111 to $105.)

CONGRESS

ers—came before Nixon only minutes after the 86th Congress convened.

It was raised in a question by Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY). Nixon replied that he still feels as he did when the last Congress convened—that the Senate is empowered to adopt new rules.

HEAVILY CHALLENGED

The vice president's view that the Senate can adopt new rules by a majority vote at the outset of the Congress is heavily challenged by Southerners and some other senators who resist any change in the old rules.

Only House Democrats, tightly under control of Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), were without any raging feuds for the moment.

Rayburn, who has served as speaker longer than any other man, was chosen again at a party caucus yesterday. It put him in the presiding chair of the House for a ninth two-year term.

Actually, the party only nominated. But the overwhelming strength of the Democrats made today's election by the House itself only a formality.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas was re-elected Senate Democratic leader at a party meeting just before the Senate convened. He has held the post since 1953.

Trapped Man Claws Way To Freedom

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—A workman trapped for more than 12 hours at the bottom of a collapsed cesspool was rescued today.

A heavy crane finally jerked loose a metal casing pinning Leslie O. Stafford's foot at the bottom of the 24-foot hole and he pulled himself free.

Stafford, who up until then had spent eight agonizing hours trying to free himself, was rushed to a hospital. His rescuers said he appeared in excellent condition.

Because of the close quarters and the danger of shifting sand, no one could reach Stafford's foot. He had to do the work of freeing his foot alone.

He banged with a chisel, broke blade after blade on a power saw, and tried unsuccessfully to move the casing with a powerful jack.

Finally a crane was backed into position and a hook lowered. Stafford fastened the hook to the metal and the crane hoisted it far enough for him to pull his foot out.

Stafford had survived an incredible four hours of being buried by sand when the walls of the hole caved in around him.

Workmen were able to reach a gloved hand. The hand twitched. Workmen discovered one metal tube, same as the one pinning Stafford's foot, had fallen across the hole above Stafford's head, giving him breathing space.

The rescuers dug deeper until Stafford's head was uncovered.

Stafford, a husky man, was not only alive, but conscious.

"Give me some water," he asked. "Then give me a steak and I'll help you dig me out."

Raft Skipper Plans Indian Ocean Trip

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Devere Baker, who skippered the raft Lehi IV when it drifted from California to Hawaii, says he'll try another trip in 1960—this time from somewhere in the Indian Ocean to Guatemala.

Baker, of Petaluma, Calif., wants to prove statements in the Book of Mormon that ancient Israelites reached America by drifting across the Pacific. He is a member of the Later-day Saints (Mormon) Church.

Sewer Board To Push Bond Issue By Phoning

Directors of the Corte Madera Sanitary District last night agreed to rely on their telephone campaign for passage Tuesday of a proposed $850,000 bond issue for construction of a sewage treatment plant.

Harold A. Snyder, president, said the board agreed not to answer publicly the "vote no" arguments put forth yesterday by a 15-man citizens group studying the bond issue.

Snyder said no public meeting has been planned before the special election. Board members will each continue calling as many as 30 persons per night to present arguments for passage of the issue, he reported.

He said he and other board members were convinced that further delays in bond issue passage could only mean greater costs but that no matter what path is taken, the board will use funds for the best interests of the district.

He said if necessary, the board would attempt to re-negotiate with the Ross Valley Sanitary District. But purchasing additional capacity in the Greenbrae plant would only mean that in about 20 years the district would be "up against the wall" again, he declared.

Snyder said the possibility of the district receiving a site for the proposed treatment plant was discussed last night with a representative of Pullman Construction Co., developers of California Point along Paradise drive.

He said developers of the marina-type residential development are interested in joining the district and might furnish a plant site if allowed to come in.

However, a spokesman for the Pullman company told the Independent-Journal today the matter is "very much up in the air."

color, national origin or ancestry. Violators could go to jail.

Brown, in his message, also advocated laws against job discrimination because of age. His office said a separate bill would be introduced on this subject.

The co-authors, Assemblymen William B. Rumford (D-Berkeley) and Augustus F. Hawkins (D-Los Angeles), cleared a generally similar proposal through the 1955 Assembly for the first time. Then, like a 1957 version, it met defeat in the Senate.

The sponsors apparently are counting on the changed Senate complexion—26-13 Democratic—to break down the upper house's traditional resistance to FEPC laws.

Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), Senate Republican leader, told a reporter, however, he is not convinced such legislation is really necessary.

In any event, he said it's something that should be submitted directly to the people for a vote. The last FEPC ballot measure was rejected by more than 500,000 votes in the 1944 election.

Florence Nelson, World Traveler, Dies In Marshall

Mrs. Florence Nelson, world traveler and widow of a former commodore of the American President Lines, died Monday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Viola Munson, in Marshall.

Born in New Haven, Conn., she came to California with her husband, Capt. Henry Nelson, in the early 1930s. They lived in San Francisco during Nelson's colorful career as a ship captain, which included taking the S.S. President Cleveland on her maiden voyage.

Not permitted to make voyages with her husband, Mrs. Nelson, traveling alone, visited many sections of the world. She toured parts of the Soviet Union shortly after a restriction against foreign visitors was lifted.

Mrs. Nelson became ill after her husband's death in 1952. She had lived with her daughter and son-in-law, Ernest, at Marshall for five and one-half years.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Carew and English, Masonic and Golden Gate avenues, San Francisco. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Funeral Saturday For Rev. B. A. Reile

Funeral services for Benjamin Andrew Reile, 64, minister of the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Santa Rosa, who was killed yesterday in a Highway 101 automobile collision north of San Rafael, will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday at the Welti Chapel of the Roses, 1225 Sonoma avenue, Santa Rosa.

Oliver G. O'Quest, 57, of Ukiah, a train fireman injured in the crash, was reported in "fair" condition today with a serious head injury at Southern Pacific General Hospital in San Francisco. The O'Quest car struck Reile's southbound car head-on.

Mattie James, 74, Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Mattie James, 74, of 7 Mohawk avenue, Corte Madera, died today in a local hospital. She had been ill since September.

Mrs. James was the widow of Lewis James who owned a San Rafael barber shop. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lucille Zentner of Corte Madera, three grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. She was a native of Texas.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo.

Heart Attack Fatal To Leopold Pysak

Leopold Pysak, a retired furniture manufacturer, suffered a heart attack and died last evening at his San Rafael home. He was 71.

Surviving him are his wife, Helen, and a daughter and son-in-law, Ursula and Paul D. Abee with whom he lived at 6 Ridgewood drive, San Rafael.

Pysak was a native of Berlin, Germany, who came to the United States after 30-years with his own furniture business. He and his wife had lived in San Rafael three years.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery.

San Rafael Painter Henry Strafuss Dies

Henry Strafuss, 59-year-old San Rafael painter, died today in a local hospital. He had been hospitalized on Dec. 12.

Strafuss, a bachelor, residing at 701 Mission avenue, San Rafael, had been employed as a painter by Custom Builders of Marin.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Edward Porterfield Of Mill Valley Dies

Edward E. Porterfield, San Francisco real estate broker and a Mill Valley resident for three years, died in a San Francisco hospital yesterday after a short illness. He was 57.

He was a native of Oklahoma.

He is survived by his wife, Ida, at the family home at 36 Catalpa avenue; two daughters, Christine and Maxine, both of Los Angeles, and a brother, Kenneth of Watsonville.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 10:30 a.m. at the Russell and Gooch Chapel in Mill Valley.

Somebody's Done It ($$$)—Invented Possible Successor To Hula Hoop

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A simple toy invented by a former television advertising salesman is whirling toward the top in the kingdom of children's fun.

It's the Whirley-Whirler, the only invention of John Hyatt. Simply, it's a small stick whirling a plastic soup plate aloft.

How did Hyatt get the idea?

"I was reading about the hula hoop craze," Hyatt recalled, "and like a million other guys, I said to myself, 'Why can't I think of something like that?'

"Well I got to thinking about hula hoops and what made them popular. Kids like something that balances and spins—and suddenly I remembered the jugglers and their spinning plates in vaudeville."

With help from a plastics designer, Hyatt fashioned the first model from a dimestore plastic plate and a rim from a coffee can.

Then Hyatt excitedly went to a friend, Lou Westheimer, a marketing consultant, and told him he had the successor to the hula hoop.

The men joined forces and took in Israel Treiman, a lawyer, to handle the legal end.

The public unveiling came in St. Louis' biggest department store. Hyatt and his two young sons did the whirling. That first day they sold more than 250.

The cost of a single die was $5,000. But "the Whirley boys"—as John and Lou call themselves—gambled.

The toy clicked. In two months a half a million units have been sold. Four plants now work around-the-clock to make the toy.

You work the toy by elevating the four-ounce plastic plate on the two-foot long stick. You flick your wrist and the plate begins spinning. The right motion puts it in orbit. The wrong one puts it on the floor.

Practically every civilized state has based its calendar on that of the Romans.

Utility Group To Meet

Directors of the Bolinas Beach Public Utility District will meet tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Mesa clubhouse, according to chairman Cyril Holt. The meeting, usually held the first Monday of each month, was postponed because of the storm.

Only 1 Hospital To Be Paid For Welfare Cases

County Clarifies Emergency Policy On Hospitalization

Marin and Ross General Hospitals henceforth will receive no more county money to pay for emergency hospitalization of patients unable to pay their own bills.

The county board of supervisors passed a policy resolution yesterday stating that the county will "assume responsibility for the cost of providing in-patient emergency care for indigent patients only from the time of their arrival at San Rafael General Hospital."

For years the county has reimbursed local hospitals for this service. The change in policy was advocated by Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, county physician, after the county entered into a contract with San Rafael General Hospital guaranteeing it $90,000 annually for care of indigent patients. County Administrator Donald A. Jensen and County Counsel Leland H. Jordan joined Dufficy in advocating the switch in policy, because "the county's interest will be best served."

DELAY URGED

All three hospitals will continue to receive county payment for out-patient emergency care (when the ill or injured person is treated and released without being hospitalized) rendered to indigents.

The vote on the policy switch was four to one with Supervisor William D. Fusselman expressing strong objections. He insisted that action be delayed at least one week "as a courtesy to the county medical society" whose president, Dr. Rolla B. Hess, appeared before the supervisors to ask time for studying the proposal.

Dr. John C. Siemens, president of the Marin Hospital Council and administrator of Ross General Hospital, echoed Hess' request for a delay.

If the new policy was to be adopted, he said, it would mean that "you" (the county) would be "riding free" on care of indigent patients in Marin and Ross General hospitals.

FOLLOWS OTHER COUNTIES

Dufficy insisted the new policy is "what's done in the other 51 counties of the state."

Fusselman clashed sharply with Dufficy several times over parliamentary questions. At one point Dufficy heatedly accused representatives of Marin and Ross hospitals of "wanting the county to underwrite all of your bills."

In casting aye votes for the new policy, Supervisors William Gnoss and James A. Marshall stated their willingness to "make changes in the light of experience if it doesn't work out."

POLICY ELSEWHERE

The board of supervisors also:

1. Set a public hearing on a new county building code for 3 p.m. next Tuesday.
2. Authorized purchase of a $175 government surplus truck for the Sleepy Hollow Fire District. The three-quarter ton truck with four-wheel drive was delivered last month to the San Anselmo fire station.
3. Adopted an ordinance to rezone Wood Island, a six-acre hill on the north edge of Corte Madera Creek east of Highway 101, to highway commercial zoning. Owners Edward and Viola De Long said proposed development for the site was a new Alexis' Tangier restaurant and bar.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Your Child Can Earn, Still Be A Dependent

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Your child may have earned more than $600 in 1958 and you can still claim the dependency deduction for him provided he is under 19 years old; or, if he is more than 19 years old, he was also a full-time student for at least five months of 1958 at an educational institution which normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum and normally has a regularly organized body of students in attendance at the place where its educational activities are carried on; or if he was pursuing a fulltime course of institutional on-farm training under the supervision of an accredited agent of an educational institution or of a state or political subdivision of a state, and you provided more than one-half the cost of his support.

Peter J. Wikel

This applies only to your children. That is, your son, daughter, step-son or step-daughter. All other dependents must have earnings of less than $600 to qualify as your dependents.

Your children, if qualified as above, may have earned any amount. They are required to file a tax return if they earned more than $600, and are required to pay income tax. They can claim their personal exemption of $600 on their own tax return.

They may, if they earned under $600, file an income tax return and claim their own personal exemption of $600 in order to secure the refund to them of any income tax that may have been withheld from their paychecks. This will not in any way prevent you from also claiming their $600 dependency deduction on your income tax return, provided they meet the requirements above.

If, however, your child is married and files a joint return with his or her spouse, then you cannot claim the dependency deduction.

You should be sure that you did furnish more than one-half of the support.

Definition of support: Support includes food, shelter, clothing, medical and dental care, education, and the like. Generally, these items of support are measured in terms of the amount of expense incurred by the one furnishing such items. However, if the item of support furnished an individual (either by himself or by others) is in the form of goods, services, or other benefits, it will be necessary to measure the amount of such item in terms of its fair market value.

In computing the amount of support, include amounts contributed by the dependent for his own support and also amounts ordinarily excludable from gross income.

In figuring whether you provide more than half of the support of a student, you may disregard amounts received by him as scholarships.

Potluck Supper Slated At Methodist Church

Members of the Young Adults for Christian Service of the Methodist Church of San Rafael will be hosts at the monthly family potluck supper at the church at 7 p.m. Friday.

Those attending are requested to take silver service and their favorite food. The YACS will furnish plates and napkins, said Richard Altman, president. Four short color feature films and a Walt Disney cartoon will be shown.

Reyes Resident Raps Removal Of Fire Truck

At least one Pt. Reyes peninsula resident objects to the removal of the county fire warden and fire truck long stationed at Inverness.

In a letter to the County Board of Supervisors yesterday, Larry Marks Jr. of Seahaven subdivision protested the switch of the fireman and truck to Point Reyes Station. Marks declared that growing traffic at Tomales Bay State Park has increased fire hazards in areas adjacent to Inverness and that the county should not withdraw its man and truck.

Supervisor James A. Marshall, who represents West Marin, said he would discuss the switch personally with Marks and endeavor to explain why it is advisable. County Fire Chief Charles R. Reilley said Marks was the only complainant.

The Inverness Public Utilities District maintains a fire department to serve the area within district boundaries. Seahaven, where Marks resides, is outside the protected area and is dependent on the county fire department, which must send equipment from Point Reyes Station.

Board Asks State Loan To Plan Small Harbors

The county board of supervisors applied yesterday to the state for a $10,000 loan to begin planning small boat harbors in Richardson Bay, Corte Madera Creek, Gallinas Creek, Petaluma Creek and any other waterway the supervisors may decide later is a good possibility.

The supervisors also asked the state to deed to the county title to channels and underwater streets in Richardson Bay, including Sausalito Canal. The county already holds title to 385 acres of Richardson Bay mud flats.

A resolution adopted by the supervisors specified that the loan be repaid at $1,000 a year over a 10-year period. However, County Counsel Leland H. Jordan had advised the board by letter that a provision of the California Constitution makes acceptance of the loan on terms required by the Division of Small Craft Harbors impossible unless the loan as accepted and repaid in the same fiscal year. Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested that a new loan be negotiated each year.

FOOT IN DOOR

Mrs. Mary Summers, county planning director who would coordinate the small boat harbor planning, described the application as "getting a foot in the door."

Fusselman said: "I have no objection to making the application but I do object to spending public money for private enterprise."

Mrs. Summers replied that "our project county-wise would be channel opening."

V. M. Moir of Santa Rosa, manager of the North Coast District, State Chamber of Commerce, noted that no private entrepreneur can get title to the underwater channels now held by the State Lands Commission.

HEARING WEDNESDAY

Moir said the supervisors' action would be a talking point in proving local interest when the Army Corps of Engineers holds a hearing on Marin and Sonoma inland harbors at 10 a.m. next Wednesday in the San Rafael City Hall.

Moir said although the $10,000 planning project would be concerned only with a recreational development, any improvement of the channels would increase their carrying capacity and help flood control.

The state Small Craft Harbors Commission has approved a preliminary application for the $10,000 loan, as well as a preliminary request for a $300,000 construction loan for Marin.

ENVOYS NAMED

After the supervisors' action, the Marin County Development Foundation's small boat harbors committee met late yesterday and appointed coordinators to present the case for each area in the county at the Army Engineers' hearing.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen was named to present the case for the San Rafael canal; Harry N. Johnston, for Santa Venetia; Al Lerch, for Novato; Planning Director Mary Summers, Mill Valley City Manager A. E. Almcrants and Francis J. Newton, for Richardson Bay-Mill Valley-Tiburon peninsula; Niels Schultz Jr., for Corte Madera Creek, and City Manager Donald A. Duerr, for Sausalito.

Carroll F. Snyker, development foundation manager, said anyone wishing to make a presentation on behalf of other Marin areas should advise him in advance of the hearing.

American families are putting 3.9 per cent of their after-tax income into life insurance, according to the Mortgage Bankers Assn. of America.

Map Service To Start At Courthouse

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized establishment of a "central map service" in the basement of the county assessor's office.

Supervising draftsman—and sole employee permanently assigned—in the new department would be George Steele, veteran county map maker and long-time deputy under former Assessor George W. Hall.

Steele would have an assistant or two on loan from the assessor's regular mapping department. He would work initially under a committee composed of Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, Planning Director Mary Summers, Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham, and County Clerk George S. Jones.

Ultimately, perhaps when space becomes available in the projected county government center, it is planned to make the central map service a part of the public works department, County Administrator Donald A. Jensen informed the supervisors. This was recommended nearly two years ago in a Kroeger administrative survey.

TAKING OFF — Anastas Mikoyan, Russian deputy premier, poses with Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, right, inside a commercial airplane prior to takeoff for Cleveland and a coast-to-coast tour. Mikoyan arrived in Washington and plans to return later this month. The man in rear is unidentified. (AP Wirephoto)

Mikoyan In Cleveland, Stresses Peace Desire

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Anastas I. Mikoyan, No. 2 man of the Kremlin, arrived in Cleveland today to start a 13-day coast-to-coast tour. He bustled off a plane and down a double line of police. Several hundred picketing nationality groups were blocked back by ropes.

Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland industrialist, and his wife greeted Mikoyan, Mrs. Eaton speaking in Russian.

The mink-coated Mrs. Eaton, who is crippled by polio and was in a wheelchair, presented Mikoyan and several other members of his party of eight with red and white carnations, after they had entered the concourse for the news conference.

WANTS PEACE

Eaton addressed the conference first, declaring that an increasing interchange of visits "can lead to greater friendship between our two nations, the two most powerful that ever existed."

On behalf of Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Mikoyan extended Eaton personal greetings. Eaton's statements, Mikoyan said, "bear testimony that people representing different systems of government can live together peaceably."

"The things that unite us is that you and we want peace and friendship among nations," Mikoyan said.

Several hundred Iron Curtain country nationality groups had gathered at the airport. They carried such signs as "Blackmailer," "Mikoyan, your hands are red with Russian blood."

HEADING WEST

After an overnight stay here as guest of millionaire Eaton, Mikoyan will go on to Detroit and the West Coast before returning to Washington Jan. 19 for talks with President Eisenhower.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Profit taking skimmed the cream from the latest upsurge to record highs and the stock market declined in active trading late this afternoon.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4,000,000 shares compared with 3,690,000 yesterday.

Pivotal issues dropped from fractions to about two points generally. A few stocks bucked the trend.

American Telephone kept about three of a five-point jump. Reynolds Metals rose more than a point along with Kennecott and Haveg. Anaconda was around a point to the good.

Eastman Kodak was off about three and Du Pont about four. Losses of about two were taken by U.S. Steel and General Electric.

Down about a point or so were Bethlehem, Chrysler, Jones & Laughlin, Sperry Rand, Union Carbide, Westinghouse Electric, Northern Pacific, Illinois Central, New York Central and Lorillard.

Sausalito Progressing In Drive Against Arks

Sausalito's drive to get rid of some of its waterfront arks bore first fruit last night.

Attorney Jay Pfotenauer, administrator of the estate of the late Mrs. Hjordis K. Hadges, informed the Sausalito City Council that the arks owned by that estate have been vacated, and prospective purchasers have been informed that abatement proceedings are under way and the structures must be removed.

The council, on motion of Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., ordered Pfotenauer to remove the shacks within 60 days.

City Atty. John B. Ehlen had brought abatement proceedings against the Hadges arks and the rotting hulk of the old lumber schooner Lassen on the Donlon Arques property at the foot of Johnson street. Ehlen reported last night that the Lassen will be removed by Arques.

Councilman John E. Koenig Jr., chairman of the council's waterfront committee, said there had been some discussion about removing the upper portions of the vessel and allowing the hull to remain as a breakwater and base for a future road.

In other matters, the council:

1. Introduced two ordinances making minor changes in the building and plumbing codes.
2. Approved unanimously a recommendation by the planning commission for a variance and use permit for a new Catholic church on Harrison avenue.
3. Approved unanimously a use permit for a 39-unit overwater apartment building at Second and Main streets, to be built by William McDevitt of San Rafael for Ernest Nunes.
4. Agreed to sponsor a teen-age dance at the IDESST Hall, as proposed by Councilman Marjorie B. Brady, provided there is no cost to the city. Councilman George E. Keeney contended sponsorship should be by a service club rather than the city.
5. Instructed City Manager Donald A. Duerr to prepare a report on water supply and pressure in the city, following complaints of no water in some areas during a recent fire at the Chambers residence.
6. By 5-0 vote, declined to reverse its position on the proposed alternate plan for Marin City development which it previously approved on the basis of a citizen committee recommendation. The Sausalito Citizens' Council asked the city council to oppose the law.
7. Instructed Duerr to investigate possible bus shelters, following a request from E. D. Bullard Co. for a shelter near its plant.

In 1851 Dr. Hermann Helmholtz, a German philosopher and scientist, invented the opthalmoscope which enables a doctor to see the interior of a living eye.

S.F. Auto Washer Admits Girl Attack

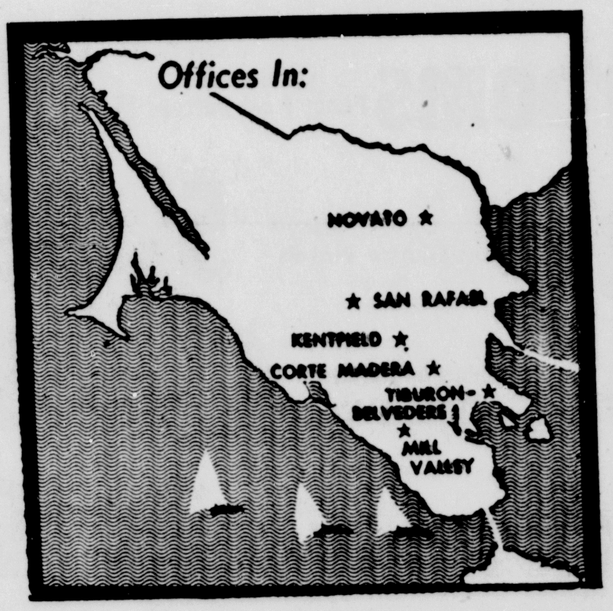

Henry Scott, 25-year-old San Francisco car washer, switched his plea yesterday and admitted he assaulted a 16-year-old school girl after a Marin City party last September.

Judge Jordan L. Martinelli set Jan. 26 for the probation report and sentencing.

Scott had pleaded innocent to assault and kidnaping. But when he admitted statutory rape today, Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich agreed to drop the kidnaping count.

The 16-year-old girl told officers Scott had accosted her when she stepped outside a Marin City home for a breath of fresh air during a party. She said he forced her into his car, drove to a secluded spot, beat and threatened her, and attacked her. He then left her on the Waldo grade.

'GEE, YOU'RE GORGEOUS' — Gov. Edmund G. Brown compliments his wife on the gown she wore to his inaugural ball. It was aqua blue satin, appliqued and embroidered. The bouffant skirt was slightly longer in back. It was designed by Charles LeMaire. (AP Wirephoto)

Brown Leads Marches At Two Inaugural Balls

By AP & UPI

SACRAMENTO—The theme song was "Happy Days Are Here Again" as California's new governor led victory marches at not one but two inaugural balls.

Edmund G. Brown smiled and waved as he and his wife promenaded between an honor guard of highway patrolmen to the tune that was identified with Franklin D. Roosevelt's sweep into the White House in 1932.

It was a rather subdued gathering that greeted the first Democratic governor in 20 years.

There were no demonstrations, but Brown and his fellow statewide officers received vigorous applause from the predominantly Democratic Party crowd.

Brown heard two speakers declare that he, like Roosevelt, was on the road to bigger things.

JESSEL MC

The master of ceremonies, George Jessel, introduced Brown as "the man I think will someday be the first of his religious belief to occupy the White House."

Brown is a Catholic.

One of the honored guests, newly elected Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada, said, "In Governor Brown you have a fine man who won't stop here."

Brown, his wife Bernice, their family and his official family first appeared at Governor's Hall at the State Fairgrounds. Then they rode to Memorial Auditorium where they repeated the grand entrance parade.

Marching in the parade were other Constitutional officers and their wives and other Democratic notables, including Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, National Democratic Committeewoman from California, and Roger Kent, vice chairman of the State Democratic Central Committee, both of Kent Woodlands.

Most of the celebrants wore formal dress. Brown wore white tie and tails. His wife wore an aqua blue embroidered satin gown.

PATROL TRIBUTE

The 34-man highway patrol honor guard volunteered for the festivities. One officer said, "We figured the patrol should be represented. This didn't cost the taxpayers a dime. We came from five counties and paid our own expenses."

The crowds were relatively quiet. Many of the dancers complained because the only liquid refreshments were coffee and cola drinks.

"Kind of tame for a victory celebration," said one gray-haired woman.

Shell Named GOP Leader In Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell (R-Los Angeles) became the Republican Party leader in the Assembly today but only after an intra-party fight.

The 33 GOP members of the lower house elected Shell minority party leader yesterday on a 17-16 vote over Assemblyman Glenn E. Coolidge (R-Felton).

Shell, a 40-year-old wealthy oilman, is a veteran of five years in the Assembly. He succeeds Marin Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister, who has served four years as floor leader of the Republicans.

Some legislators who participated in the GOP caucus said the Shell-Coolidge fight was a battle between conservative Republican assemblymen who favored Shell and a group described variously as moderate, progressive or liberal.

While the Republicans battled over a minority leader, Lower House Democrats uanimously agreed on William A. Munnell (D-Los Angeles) to be majority floor leader. Munnell was minority leader the past two sessions.

McCollister Bill Would Add Marin Court

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin Assemlyman Richard H. McCollister tossed five bills into the legislative hopper yesterday, first day for bill introduction in the newly convened state Legislature. A total of 43 proposed new laws were introduced.

Marin Senator John F. McCarthy introduced no bills yesterday, but indicated he would have some ready today.

Bills introduced by McCollister included:

AB 15—Increases the number of Marin municipal court judges from two to three. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

PROPERTY PROPOSAL

AB 32—Provides that private property appropriated for governmental use may not be reappropriated by another governmental agency while it is still being used for the purpose for which it originally was appropriated. Referred to the Judicial Committee.

AB 33—Suspends compulsory retirement provisions for miscellaneous members of the state retirement system until next September unless legislation is enacted which extends survivorship benefits to these members or includes them in the federal old age and survivship program. An urgency measure to become effective immediately. Referred to the Civil Service and State Personnel Committee.

POULTRY PROVISIONS

AB 34—Extends exemption of New York dressed poultry from certain state requirements from November of this year to November 1963. Referred to Agriculture Committee.

AB 35—Authorizes changes in designation of approved milk inspection services. Referred to Livestock and Dairies Committee.

Under Proposition 9 passed at last November's election, the bills cannot be considered for 30 days.

Mackin Appointed To $15,000 Post Of Loan Commissioner

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Attorney Frank J. Mackin of Los Angeles will serve in the $15,000-a-year post of state savings and loan commissioner in the new administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

A longtime associate of the new governor, Mackin received the appointment Monday. He had been chief deputy attorney general under Brown since August, and earlier, assistant attorney general in charge of the Los Angeles office.

Mackin, 51, is a Republican. He was coordinator of Brown's unsuccessful campaign for the attorney generalship of 1946 and again in his successful campaign of 1950.

Mackin replaces Milton O. Shaw of Los Angeles, who was appointed by former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight.

$954 Collected In Building Fees

Plumbing permits led the field during December in Corte Madera. Building Inspector William G. McBride said 110 plumbing and 46 electrical permits were issued.

McBride said residential construction permits totaled $106,673. There were no commercial permits issued. Total valuation of all permits issued for the month was $207,997. Total fees collected were $954.60.

Contractors Group Elects McKenzie

Bruce McKenzie of 147 Tiburon boulevard, San Rafael, was elected secretary-manager of the newly-consolidated Northern and Central California Chapter, Associated General Contractors of America, at a board meeting in San Francisco Monday.

McKenzie was formerly manager of the Central California chapter, a post he held since 1954.

Directors of the chapter include E. A. Forde Jr. of the E. A. Forde Co., San Anselmo.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Reich Trains Rocketeer

BONN, Germany (AP) — Training of West German rocket troops will begin this month, the Defense Ministry announced today.

Two launching ramps for the Honest John short-range ground-to-ground rocket have been set up in the Eifel Mountains. The government has bought 24 Honest Johns from the United States for training.

The rockets are equipped with dummy cement warheads. Atomic warheads for the rockets are controlled by the United States.

Tortoise Turns 200

LONDON (UPI)—Jonathan, a giant tortoise, celebrates his 200th birthday on the island of St. Helena this year. He's in good health.

Jonathan was one of the sights on St. Helena when Napoleon was exiled there in 1815 after the Battle of Waterloo.

Better Do Nothing

HONOLULU (AP)—Douglas O. Craddick, 37, was stopped by a motorcycle patrolman who gave him a ticket for speeding. As Craddick drove off, the patrolman saw him flip the ticket out of his car window. The patrolman stopped Craddick again, escorted him to the police station and charged him with violating the city's litterbug ordinance.

Krupp Buys Out Rival

BONN, Germany (AP)—Alfried Krupp, the German munitions king of World War II, has bought out a rival concern and emerged as West Germany's leading steel-maker.

Krupp has purchased the Bochumer Verein with a capital of 23 million dollars. He already operates the Rheinhausen steel plant capitalized at 27½ million.

Relief Due In East

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Higher temperatures and diminishing winds were expected to provide some relief—but not much—today for the Eastern Seaboard, battered by icy gales and chilled by frigid cold since Monday.

Violent winds, with gusts up to 75 m.p.h., put below-zero teeth into the bitter bite of subfreezing weather again yesterday.

Today, the Weather Bureau in Washington said, winds would diminish to 20 to 30 m.p.h. along the northern portion of the coast, while blowing relatively light in the southern section. Rising temperatures may reach a high of 25 to 30 degrees in some areas.

Party Set For HST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic party is going to salute former President Harry S. Truman with a nationwide party fund-raising show on his 75th birthday, May 8.

The Democratic National Committee said yesterday that details haven't been worked out but that Truman had agreed to make his birthday the occasion for the money-raising show. It probably will take the form of a closed circuit telecast over a theater or hotel ballroom network.

A Last, Kind Deed

STOCKTON (AP)—He was 72, sick and dispirited, but he wanted to do something for somebody.

So, before he hanged himself, Louis Pedersen left his bank book showing more than $10,000 savings along side this note:

"I want to leave all my money to the children's home on Pilgrim Street."

His body was found in his dilapidated cabin yesterday.

Belgian Congo Quiets

BRUSSELS (AP) — Order has been restored in most of Leopoldville after riots that killed at least 35 Africans and severely injured 100 more, reports from the capital of the Belgian Congo said today.

Police and troops remained on the alert with the African section of the city cordoned off.

Clashes between Africans and police began Sunday after an African political meeting at which future independence of the Congo was discussed.

Nasser Purges Reds

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser has carried out in Syria one of the biggest purges of Communists in the Middle East, arresting more than 300 persons.

The arrests beginning last Thursday virtually wiped out the Communist organization in the Syrian region of Nasser's United Arab Republic.

Long Drought Ends

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Holy Land's longest drought in memory ended last night. The rains, which continued today, were the first in 11 months.

Egan Recovering

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Gov. William A. Egan, who has spent most of his time as governor of this new state in the hospital, was resting comfortably today after undergoing surgery.

Egan, 44, was inaugurated as the first governor of the new state of Alaska last Saturday. Four hours after the ceremony he entered the hospital.

Yesterday, during a four-hour operation, surgeons removed his gall bladder and a gall stone. They termed the operation a complete success.

Conant Tells Findings Of High School Survey

By DIANA BRUCE

Dr. James Bryant Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University and former ambassador to West Germany, gave a preview last night of his findings during a two-year study of American high schools and placed his hope in the "comprehensive high school" for all students, from the slow readers to the highly gifted pupils.

Dr. Conant will present his full 140-page report on Jan. 28 to a conference of the National Assn. of School Boards in San Francisco.

Educators, who have resented "hysteria" about the American educational system and criticism from persons outside the school system, came as far north as Eureka and as far south as Modesto to hear Dr. Conant. The audience in San Francisco numbered 750 persons.

IDEAL POSSIBLE

Dr. Conant found in visiting 50 high schools across the country that 40 could be described as "widely comprehensive." He wanted to discover if his ideal was possible to achieve. His conclusion: "It is possible."

The 65-year-old elder statesman among educators outlined what he considered an ideal high school curriculum:

1. For all students who have the ability, regardless of whether they plan to go on to college: four years of English with heavy emphasis on English composition; three or four years of social studies including U. S. history and problems of American democracy; one year of mathematics and one year of science.

2. Vocational courses which can result in "committed students" who know why they are in high school. They graduate with a "marketable skill."

STUDY FOR TALENTED

3. Cources for the "academically talented" who compose roughly 15 per cent of the total high school population. In addition to four years of English and four years of social studies, these students, he said, should take three years of science, four years of mathematics and four years of a modern foreign language.

Dr. Conant found that most academically talented boys had been electing a combined seven years of science and mathematics. But, he said, the academically talented girls shied away from these electives. Dr. Conant considered that the country thus was missing a potential source of science teachers.

4. Courses to stimulate the three or four per cent who are "highly gifted" and the 10 or 15 per cent at the other end of the intelligence spread who become "slow readers."

SLOW READERS

For the slow readers, he suggested grouping in one class and getting a special teacher to guide them in remedial reading.

Dr. Conant said certain critics of American high schools would like to see them patterned after European models—the German gymnasium or the French lycee.

These European schools prepare their students with an eight or nine year pre-university course, he explained. One-half to two-thirds of the students never graduate. Others, who do not qualify at age 10 or 11 to enter them, end their schooling at 14, he said.

"This in the United States is literally impossible," declared Dr. Conant.

People like you like to save at Crocker-Anglo

Picture the people who wear these hats. Now picture a stack of thousand-dollar bills over 400 feet high. That's how much money these and other people had in savings and other time deposits at Crocker-Anglo National Bank on December 31 — a total of exactly $617,139,461.

Who saves this money? People like you . . . active, progressive Californians. People who save for homes, cars, education, travel, and that wonderful feeling of security.

As shown by the figures below, Crocker-Anglo is growing, helping more people more than ever to save. Proof again that people like the way Crocker-Anglo does business.

FOR YEAR 'ROUND GOOD PRODUCE

One of the most vital assets to good health is plenty of green and yellow vegetables and fresh fruits, too. You'll always find a good selection at Bon Air. Somewhere in the United States and Southern Countries the season is just opening on produce items that won't be harvested locally for several months. Our buyers follow the Sun—or rather, go before the Sun so that seasons for your favorite fruit or vegetable is available to you for the greatest length of time—though the source may vary from 1,000 to 2 miles from Marin County. Because of our wide reaching buying system and because we have been established with these sources for many years—you'll never find prices out-of-reach, regardless of the amount of shipping it took to bring the items to you.

Freitas Gift To Church Good For All Community

When a new church and a new parochial school are built in a community, everybody gains.

Both are forces for good. The church is a refuge for world-weary people in need of inspiration and comfort. Its message and exhortation encourage living according to highest moral principles. Through the church and its affiliated services, the poor and needy are assisted, the afflicted are comforted and the world's heathen are offered salvation.

The parochial school not only educates in the academic sense, but encourages its youth to live their daily lives according to highest moral principles.

All these things are true of any church composed of people banded together to serve God—whether their denomination happens to be the same as yours, or not.

The vast new residential areas mushrooming north of San Rafael and centered at Terra Linda soon will have a new Roman Catholic Church and parochial school.

The heirs of the late Mr. and Mrs. Manuel T. Freitas Sr. made this immediately possible when they donated their huge old home and 10 acres of extremely desirable land to the church last week.

The "Home Ranch," originally 1,200 or more acres, and the majestic old residence on it had been owned by the Freitas family since 1898 when the senior Freitas acquired it from the late John Lucas who had built the structure 30 years earlier.

The announcement of the $100,000 gift to the church listed these Freitas heirs as the donors: Rose Freitas Rose, Manuel T. Freitas, Helen Freitas Tichenor, Carlos R. Freitas, Louis G. Freitas, Walter F. Freitas and Mrs. Frances T. O'Mara.

While they must already have derived great satisfaction from the knowledge that their generous gift will be of immense value to the church, they deserve the further acknowledgement and expression of gratitude from the whole community which stands to gain from the influence-for-good which the new parish and school will disseminate among us.

Rain On Roof; Book In Hand

Now that the Marin winter rains are coming down in earnest and the yard has assumed a swamp-like aspect, it is the season of rest from the yard chores and a time to plow the fields of the intellect. It it a time for reading those books which summer's busy life kept from us.

What is more luxurious and satisfying than stretching out beside a crackling fireplace with a good book? Or more pleasure than reading, propped up in bed? Few pleasures are more rewarding.

Through books we can pursue our wanderlust to the fartherest corner of the earth, from California to Calcutta; go hunting for big-game in Africa; settle the world's problems with her greatest minds; enjoy the nature aspects of our portion of California; or enter into the personal problems and human drama of a real or imagined character. Through books we can live many lives in the course of our own.

When the rains come we catch up on our reading. We recommend this time of the year as ideal for getting at that book you've been meaning to read. The time will never be better.

SAVING LIVES HIS SPECIALTY

A skipper who saved 106 lives during his 50 years at sea was awarded a gold medal for meritorious service recently.

Captain George H. Grant's rescues included 2 men on a sinking fishing boat in the Gulf Stream, 3 others on a raft off the West Coast of Mexico, 17 sailors from a naval vessel that sank outside of San Francisco harbor, as well as 83 survivors of a collision between a tanker and an ice breaker.

The most unique rescue involved one of his own sailors who fell overboard and was not missed until several hours later. The captain immediately turned his ship about and retraced the exact course. After a careful search, the seaman was eventually picked up unharmed.

You may not be able to go to sea and duplicate such rescues. But during your voyage through life, you have countless opportunities to help your fellowman by showing a Christlike concern and alertness for those in distress.

"Fear is not in charity: but perfect charity casteth out fear." (I John 4:18)

Help me, O Lord, to be ever on the lookout for those in trouble.

Titanic Survivor Says It Took Many Years To Get Faith Back

NEW YORK (AP) — "For years I felt God went down with the Titanic," said the tiny old lady.

"It took a great many years for me to get my faith back."

Mrs. Henry B. Harris shares today a feeling held by many that the sinking of the "unsinkable ship" after crashing into an iceberg in 1912 spelled the end of an age of security the world has never known since.

"That way of life seems gone forever," she said.

She was one of the 705 saved when the great ship went down. Her husband of 10 years, a famous New York theatrical producer, was among the 1,502 lost.

Mrs. Harris, now in her 70s, uses a crutch because of an ailing hip. Looking a bit like a crippled elderly thrush, she was the life of the party at a recent reunion of a dozen or so of the 83 Titanic survivors. Afterward she found herself unable to watch the premiere of a British-made film based on the disaster.

Mrs. Harris had broken her elbow when she slipped and fell on the ship stairway a few hours before the fatal collision. She was playing cards with her husband in their suite when the ship struck the iceberg at 11:40 p.m. April 14.

"There was no shock or jar," she recalled. "I simply noticed that my clothing, which had been swinging on hangers a moment before suddenly stopped swinging.

"When we went up on deck later and saw people getting into the lifeboats, we thought they were sissies. There was no feeling of terror — then.

"But as time passed we realized we were in real danger. My husband begged and pleaded with me to go, but I didn't want to leave him, even though I felt everyone would be saved."

HER HUSBAND finally put her in the last seat in the last collapsible boat, tossed her a blanket, stepped back and was lost in a sea of faces.

Mrs. Harris, left a millionaire, became America's first theatrical producer, but lost her wealth during the last depression.

A LADY OF INDOMITABLE spirit, she observed philosophically:

"If I had my life to live over, I wouldn't change it. After all, I had 10 unforgettable years with my first husband.

"He spoiled me for any other man in the world. I have had four marriages — but really only one husband."

Marin City Resident Laments Land Grab

EDITOR
Independent-Journal

With apologies to Lewis Carroll, here are some random thoughts in relation to the redevelopment of Marin City.

LAND GRAB BY THE BAY

The Pirate and the Crocodile
Were walking close at hand.
They wept like anything to see
Such quantities of land.
"If it were only energized,"
They said, "It would be grand."

"Oh, Goslings, come and walk with us,"
The Pirate did beseech,
"A little stroll down from the knoll
For lantern slides and speech
About the greater density,
Its benefits to teach."

"Of course you know these lovely lots
For Goslings are too nice.
They were meant for Eagles
Who can pay a bigger price.
We alternately have a Plan
Which will for Geese suffice."

"It seems a shame," the Pirate said,
"To play them such a trick.
After we brought them out so far
And made them trot so quick."
The Crocodile said nothing but
"The parks are much too thick."

"I weep for you," the Pirate said,
"I deeply sympathize."
With sobs and tears he sorted out
The lots of greater size,
Holding his pocket handkerchief
Before his streaming eyes.

"Oh, Goslings," said the Crocodile,
"You've had a pleasant run.
Shall we be trotting home again?"
But answer came there none.
And this was scarcely odd, because
They'd displaced everyone.

Mother Goose had a rhyme for it, too.
"The law locks up the man or woman
Who steals the goose from off the common,
But lets the greater villain loose
Who steels the common from the goose."

State Park Commission May Be Shorn Of Power By Legislature

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The announced intention of an Assembly sub-committee to attempt to switch control of development of the state's beach and parks program back to the governor's office comes not as a complete surprise.

The Legislature occasionally finds itself the victim of agencies it has created. Such conditions are tolerated, in varying degrees of acceptance, for a time. But, if something isn't done and the bureaucrats involved do not take the hint, legislation usually follows.

Thus bills have been passed in the Legislature and constitutional amendments approved by the people when the underlying purpose actually was to depose one man.

AT PRESENT, the State Park Commision has complete jurisdiction over where and how the taxpayers' money is spent for acquisition, development and operation of the beaches and parks system. It's true that the money comes from tidelands oil royalties but, if it were not reserved for the B&P program, it would go into the general fund, with the result that less taxes would be required. Thus, it's apparent that we're talking about taxpayers' money.

The Division of Beaches and Parks is under the Commission and a part of the Department of Natural Resources. The director of the latter department is appointed by the governor, to serve a term at his pleasure. The Commission is appointed by the governor for specified terms. The chief of the division is appointed by the Director of Natural Resources, after being selected by the Commission.

If this has the ordinary reader confused, it's only because that's the way it operates. The result, of course, is a confusion of jurisdiction and responsibility.

When such indirect jurisdiction is in effect, experienced bureaucrats are quick to take advantage. The present chief, Newton Drury, is experienced and is no exception.

THE FACT THAT the assembly subcommittee attempting to bring about the change is headed by Assemblyman Jesse Unruh (D-Los Angeles) is somewhat significant. Unruh headed the southern California campaign of Gov. Edmund G. Brown and is slated to be Brown's personal floor leader in the assembly, as chairman of the Ways and Means committee.

Also of some significance is the fact that the chairman of the Park Commission is Joseph R. Knowland, Oakland publisher and father of Sen. William F. Knowland who opposed Brown in the governor election.

THE LEGISLATION expected early in 1959 would return control over the program to the governor. More specifically, it would call for appointment of the Chief of the Division directly by the governor.

Drury, who becomes 70 in April and must retire, has announced plans to retire, effective May 1. Thus Unruh's subcommittee will attempt to pass urgency legislation to take the appointment away from the Commission (and Knowland) before Drury retires.

BENNETT CERF

Ben Novack, spectacular impresario of the Fountainbleau Hotel, Miami Beach, had a grandfather who took it for granted that his progeny would achieve success. When Novack was a boy, the grandfather clutched his arm and demanded, "Ben, how old are you now?" "I'm eleven," answered the boy. "Hmph," nodded his grandfather. "When I was your age, I was already fifteen."

Little Janet had never been on a farm before. Left to her own devices for a spell, she came tumbling into the house in great excitement and cried, "Come quick, mama! There's a wonderful big pig lying on the ground and seven little pigs are blowing her up!"

Motorists Leaving Hamilton On New Year's Got Free Cup Of Coffee

CAPT. MAXWELL O. Johnson, provost marshall at Hamilton Air Force Base, takes his accident-prevention duties seriously — much to the pleasure and good fortune last week of 755 New Year's Eve celebrants.

The captain, with the assistance of two air policemen, handed out just that many steaming cups of black coffee to Hamilton visitors as they were driving off the base after saluting the advent of the new year.

None of the exiting merrymakers refused the hospitable offer from the captain and his men and, so far as we know, none of them dented so much as a fender on the way home — the provost marshall's only desired reward for his nocturnal efforts.

Perhaps before this fledging year is out someone could pull a few strings with the state highway commission and arrange for a temporary detour of highway 101 through the sobering gates next Jan. 1.

NOVATO VOLUNTEER firemen have concluded that the honest folk of the world far outnumber their counterparts.

Volunteer V. W. (Huey) Long, who took charge of the firemen's Christmas tree lot off the Redwood Highway during the recent Yule season, tells us there is good reason backing the opinion.

More than 25 persons, who went to the lot after closing hours to pick out their trees, went to the Novato fire station — more than a block away — to pay up before carting them off, he says.

"It's gratifying to see that there can be so much honesty in people," declares Huey. Amen to that.

MRS. PETER P. Yarish of Novato (the former Alice Foley) should have no trouble with parking tickets when visiting relatives in the state of Nevada.

Alice just learned that two of her nephews emerged politically triumphant in that state in the November elections. One, Roger D. Foley, was elected state attorney general; another, George Foley, became district attorney in the city of Las Vegas.

The new office holders were former partners with their three brothers in the Las Vegas law firm of Foley, Foley, Foley, Foley and Foley, no less. And just to make things complete, Alice's brother, Roger T. Foley, is judge of the U. S. District Court for Southern Nevada.

FOR NOVATANS Mr. and Mrs. George Marshall, another new year's rolling around means another game of bridge

The Novato chamber of commerce secretary-manager and his wife have, during each of the past 50 years, celebrated the year's advent with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Temby of Grass Valley.

And Mr. Marshall also lays claim to one of the longest consecutive Christmas card correspondences on record. For 60 years, ever since they met in the Navy during the Spanish-American war, he and E. J. Levensaler of San Francisco have exchanged season's greetings.

Communists Are Winning Cold War In World's Under-Developed Areas

TAKING STOCK at New Year's, there are those who think that our position in the cold war has improved and that in the end all will be well if we stand firm and persevere. They think that time is on our side. On the other hand, there are those who think that the balance of military power is turning against us, and also that in the under-developed regions of Africa, Asia, and South America, the tide is running against us.

They do not think that it is enough to stand firm and persevere. It is necessary also to take bold and costly measures to turn the tide. They think that time is not on our side unless we make a prodigious effort in armaments, in the development of our own economy to support them, and in a demonstration that there is a way, other than the Communist way, by which the under-developed nations can overcome their weakness and master their poverty.

I SHALL LEAVE to others, who are more expert in these matters, the problem of what should be done to maintain a military balance of power. I should like to define the central reason why, as things are now going, the West is losing and the Communists are winning the contest in the under-developed countries.

The central reason is that the advanced and industrialized Western countries of North America and Western Europe and Australasia are growing richer while the under-developed countries, outside the Communist orbit, remain in dire poverty and insofar as they are advancing, are moving very slowly. It is in this factual situation, it is in this soil, that Communism is expanding. For the Soviet Union has succeeded in demonstrating that there is a way, though harsh and cruel, by which a country can be raised by its own boot-straps.

A FEW FIGURES, which are generally accepted as approximately correct, will make concrete the nature of our problem. There are, roughly speaking, about 400 million people in Western Europe, North America, and Australasia, and they have, measured in 1949 prices, an average income per capita of not quite $900 a year. This, let us remember, is an average.

In the under-developed countries, excluding Red China, there are about 1,000 million people and they have an average per capita income of about $60 a year, which is less than one-tenth of the average in the West.

BUT THIS IS only the beginning of the story. It is obvious that this enormous gap can be narrowed only if the backward countries are able to use modern technology in agriculture, mining, and industry. But to use the modern technology there are needed technically trained men and capital. The technicians can be trained and they can be borrowed. But where is the capital to come from?

At a rough estimate, the heavy basic industries, such as steel, require a capital investment per man of about $20,000 more or less. For the lighter industries something in the neighborhood of $6,000 capital per man is needed.

NOW IN THE WEST, we are able to save and invest productively about 10 per cent of our income per capita per year. That comes to an average of about $90 invested per person in new plant and machinery. That is why the Western countries are growing richer — as a matter of fact at an average rate of 2 per cent per capita per year.

But that $90, which the West is able to save and to invest, is more than the whole income of the average person in the under-developed countries. That is why they remain poor and are unable to do much about their poverty.

THIS IS THE point at which the Communist challenge really becomes so formidable. For Communism, as practiced in the Soviet Union, has proved that if the leaders are powerful enough and ruthless enough, the capital required for the new technology can be extracted from the work and the sacrifices of the people themselves.

Let us be warned that while it is imperative and essential to maintain the balance of military power, Communist expansion in the under-developed countries cannot be contained by military means.

Bulldogs Rout Novato Quint; Redwood, Tamalpais Win

San Rafael Bulldogs, Redwood Giants and Tamalpais Indians romped to impressive victories, but Marin Catholic, Drake and Novato took losses on the chin in Marin high school basketball action yesterday afternoon.

Coach Bob Lincoln's Bulldogs had an easy time of it, stomping all over the Novato Hornets by a 50-18 rout. Redwood outscored Analy, 59-46 and the Tamites turned back Westmoor, 47-41.

On the deficit side, along with Novato, Marin bowed to Riordan by the heartbreaking 29-28 measure while Drake was bowing to Sacred Heart, 40-33.

San Rafael, getting a fine defensive game from football stars Brent Marshall and Ron Snidow, rolled up a 15-0 whitewashing in the first period and kept rolling, leading at the half by 24-5 and at the end of the third period, 36-13.

The Bulldogs got 47 rebounds to Novato's 16, which just about tells the story.

Marshall and John Blomquist led the S. R. attack, each with 10 points while Mike Curry had 6 and Snidow and Terry Tevis 5 each.

Pete Ferrarese led Novato with 8. Hornet ace Jack Sparrow was held scoreless.

Dave Neumann had a hot afternoon for the Giants as he scored 22 points against Analy.

The Giants led most of the way, but Analy rallied to within one point, 42-13 in the fourth quarter, only to watch the rally change hands to Redwood as the Giants whipped through 10 straight points to win going away.

Trailing Neumann in the Redwood scoring was Rich Brear with 13 points and Rick Reide with 10.

Redwood played without the services of Dick Breyer. The little ace guard underwent an emergency appendectomy Monday night at Mt. Zion Hospital in San Francisco.

Ron Blum was the big gun for Marin Catholic with 15 points, but Riordan took advantage of Wildcat fouls and scored 9 points from the foul line to eke out the Catholic Athletic League victory.

Sacred Heart led all the way in turning back Drake at San Anselmo, leading 10-7, 22-14 and 28-23 at the end of each period.

Dick Llewellyn was high for Drake with 10 points, followed by Dan Giles, Daryl Sattui and Dick Spackman, each with 7.

All teams will go into league action Friday night.

GOLDEN VALLEY

Marin Coach Sees Possible Pennant

Their rugged practice schedule behind them, the College of Marin Tars embark on their Golden Valley Conference schedule this weekend and Coach Cal Riemcke believes "we have an excellent chance" to win the league title for the second straight year.

Although the Tars have taken their lumps, including a 78-56 whipping from Oakland City College yesterday, Riemcke predicted a bright league season "because we've been playing outstanding teams in practice while the other teams in our conference have had a comparatively weak schedule."

Marin plays at Shasta J. C. Friday night and then at Yuba J.C. Saturday night.

OAKLAND TOPS

Oakland, according to Riemcke, "is the best team we've played this season and they taught us a good lesson." The Oaklanders hit 50 per cent of their field goal attempts, which is tough to cope with, even though the Tars connected for 47 per cent, also outstanding.

Freshman Bill Breuner led Marin with 16 points while Pat Anthony had 11 and Dennis Slavich 7.

Rufus Hawkins had 23 for Oakland.

Pete Sees Improvement For Bears

BERKELEY (AP)—California's Bears took a dumping in the Rose Bowl, but they got a thumping pat on the back from the homefolks.

A special meeting of students yesterday in the Men's Gymnasium honored Coach Pete Elliott and the squad, quarterback Joe Kapp in particular.

Elliott accepted the W. J. Voit Trophy for Kapp who is en route home from Sunday's Hula Bowl game in Honolulu.

"I felt a great sense of pride over the way our squad played this year," said Elliott, whose initial season in 1957 was marred by a 1-9 win-loss record. "I am very pleased to be associated with this great group of California athletes."

"The Rose Bowl doesn't mean that we are not going to improve, but rather that we are definitely going to improve. In fact, we're really just starting."

Chancellor Glenn T. Seaborg extended "the university's heartiest thanks to Elliott, his staff and the team."

He praised Elliott "whose conduct both in victory and defeat has been most impressive."

Guards, Tigers Win S.R. Cage League Openers

The San Quentin Guards and the Marin Tigers won their first games in the "C" division of the San Rafael Recreation and Park Department's Men's Basketball League Monday night at San Rafael High School.

The Guards defeated the Village Inn by a score of 29 to 18. Ken Kenberg led the Guards with 13 points.

The Tigers defeated the 14th Marines, 46 to 30. Dale Aman was high point man for the Tigers with 16 points, and Bob Anderson led the Marines with 21 points.

Klurman Tanks 29 Points, COP Wins

Dave Klurman, who is only 5-foot-10, scored 29 points last night to pace College of the Pacific to an 81-53 victory over Chico State.

Rebound specialist Leroy Wright, 6-8, tallied 22 COP points, 16 of them in the second half. Walt Wall led Chico with 18.

New Boxing Boss In N.Y.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Melvin Krulewitch, 63, is the new chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, replacing Julius Helfand who served as chairman for four years.

Krulewitch, a New York attorney and a retired Marine Corps major general, thus automatically becomes a power in boxing.

Krulewitch was named yesterday by Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to fill a commission seat vacated by Francis J. Souhan of Seneca Falls. Souhan's term had expired. Rockefeller designated Krulewitch to the $16,900-a-year post as chairman.

BOB MOORE RESIGNS AS PRO AT MEADOW CLUB

Bob Moore, head golf professional at the Meadow Club in Fairfax for nearly five years, has resigned to accept a similar position at the Corral De Tierra Country Club in Salinas, it was announced yesterday.

The popular Moore said he would start his new job when the new Salinas course opens March 16 and would remain at the Meadow Club "until they find someone to replace me."

Moore, former Oklahoma A & M football star, said he has enjoyed his stay in Marin, "but the Salinas club offered me such a good deal I could hardly turn it down."

More received a five-year contract at Salinas and will be free to play in five major tournaments each year, including the State Open, the Bing Crosby, National Open, National PGA and Northern California PGA.

Prior to his job at the Meadow Club, he served as teaching pro at Lake Merced and Green Hills.

New Novato Golf Pro Holds Three Records

Jim Perrin, 36-year-old new head professional at the Indian Valley Golf Club, will introduce members to several new tournaments and other innovations, he stated today while discussing plans for the year-old Novato course.

Perrin took over as head pro from Floyd Hudson on the first of the year and is still busy equipping his shop with golfing supplies.

Perrin was elected head pro by club's board of directors who became familiar with him last year when he helped Hudson on weekends.

"As soon as time permits I'll give the members some new ideas for tournaments and other ideas to perk up interest," Perrin promised.

Perrin's last job as head pro was last summer at the Glenbrook course at Lake Tahoe. Prior to that he was a sales representative for a golfing equipment firm in northern California.

The new professional still holds three course records in the Hawaiian Islands, including a 29 for nine holes and 66 for 18 at the Mid-Pacific Country Club and a 65 at the Kaneohe Marine Base course.

Last summer he tied the course record of 60 at the par 68 Glenbrook course.

He invites Marin golfers to visit the course at Novato.

Hudson, meanwhile, has moved to the Hamilton Air Force Base driving range.

Tomales Smashes S.R. Cadets, 42-17

After, trailing at halftime, 11-13, Coach Harold Janney's Tomales Braves ran wild to rack up a 42-17 decision over the San Rafael Military Academy Cadets yesterday afternoon in a practice basketball game.

While holding the Cadets to one point in the third quarter and three in the fourth, the Braves smashed home 31 second half markers.

Jack Woodard with 15 points and Jerry Walker with 13 led the victors.

SRMA won the Class B game, 28-27 in overtime.

BOWLING

Jim Dehl fired games of 222, 189 and 175 for a 586 total and high honors in the Marin Bowl's Handicap League last night.

Bill Deyl and George Mazzera tied for second at the 572 mark, Deyl's total including high games of 211 and 202.

Team results and high scorers: J. R. Watkins Co. (Stan Barrass, 450) d. Standard Linoleum (Kenny Foutch, 444) by 3½-½; Ranch Wagon (Frank Happy, 539) d. Frank's Barber Shop (Bob Lollick, 542) by 3-1; Twin Oaks Floor Co. (Ray Guanella, 500) d. Mill Valley Auto Parts (Ed Johnson, 535) by 3-1; Filippo Construction (Mazzera, 572) d. Bret Harte Super (Charles Valsecchi, 544) by 3-1; Payless Drug (Deyl, 572) d. Northwestern Savings and Loan (Dehl, 586) by 3-1; Hit and Misses (Sam DePillo, 507) d. Mims Slight Choice Over Boyd In TVer

CHICAGO (UPI) — A "new" Bobby Boyd, seeking a ranking among the middleweights, and Holly Mims of Washington, D. C., clash tonight in a televised 10-rounder at the Chicago Stadium.

Mims, a 30-year-old campaigner of 10 years' ring service, was ranked as a slight favorite, although Boyd holds an edge in their two previous fights. The lanky Chicagoan earned a 10-round nod over Mims in 1956 and the pair fought to a 10-round draw almost a year ago.

Boyd's manager, Bernie Glickman, said fans will be seeing a "new" Boyd, who in the past has won when he figured to lose and lost when he figured to win.

The unpredictable Bobby Boyd has won his last two outings, beating Jimmy Beecham in Chicago Oct. 10 and earning a 10-round decision over Neal Rivers at Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 29.

Boyd, who has compiled a record of 51 wins, 10 defeats and three draws while consistently failing to win the big ones, is a changed man, Glickman said.

"He will soon be a father and that will give him the desire to win," the manager promised.

Wilson's Shoulder Okay, He'll Play In Pro Bowl Tilt

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Western Conference All-Stars were relieved today that a shoulder injury suffered by end Billy Wilson of the San Francisco 49ers was not serious and he would be ready for Sunday's Pro Bowl game.

Wilson hurt his shoulder during drills Monday, but Coach Weeb Ewbank reported that X-rays showed the injury was not as serious as first believed.

Van Brocklin Faces Tough Job Against West Brutes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If you were quarterback Norm Van Brocklin in Sunday's annual Pro Bowl Football Game, what would you call?

Just where would you concentrate the East team's attack? Think a minute, because the western conference's defensive unit is a corker.

Van Brocklin of the Philadelphia Eagles is one of the National Football League's top passers. He will want to pick up a touchdown the easy way. So let's look at the West's pass defense corps.

Four of the West's defensive backs have won all-pro: Jim David and Yale Lary of the Detroit Lions; Bobby Dillon of the Green Bay Packers and Will Sherman of the Los Angeles Rams.

Still, the Dutchman has thrown plenty of touchdowns in the western conference when he was wearing a Los Angeles Ram uniform. But suppose his passing doesn't go. Then what?

Well, Van has plenty of running backs—Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns, Tommy McDonald, Eagles; and Frank Gifford and Alex Webster of the New York Giants.

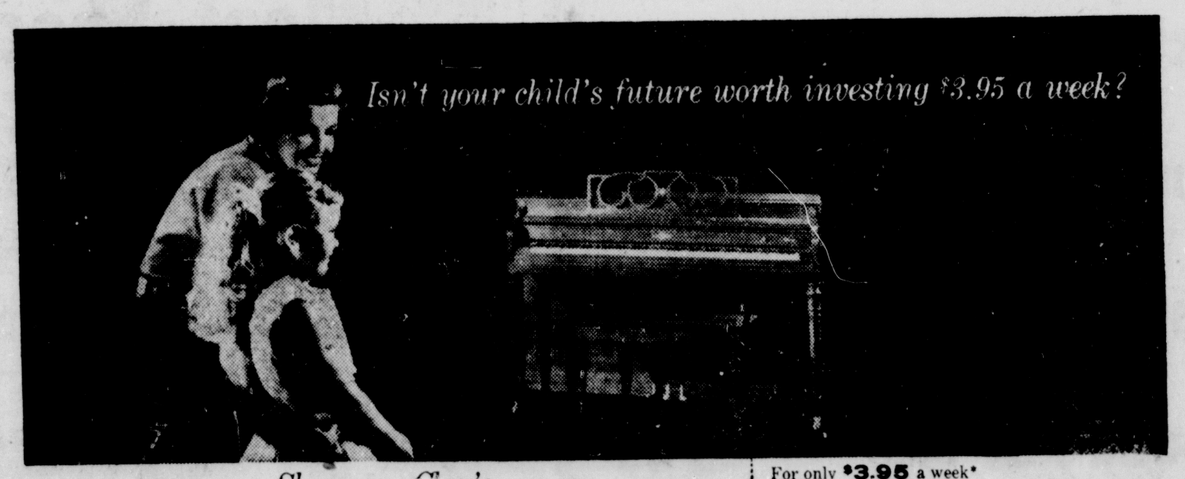

Let's try a quick opener. How's it look?

Perhaps you'd better not look. Peering over the offensive line are four of the most feared backs in the league—linebackers Les Richter of the Rams, Joe Schmidt of the Lions and Bill George and Joe Fortunato of the Chicago Bears.

But cheer up, maybe the ballcarrier won't get as far as the linebacker. Consider this fourman front line: Leo Nomellini of the San Francisco 49ers, Doug Atkins of the Bears and from the world champion Baltimore Colts Don Joyce and Big Daddy Lipscomb.

Albert, It's Said, Will Get As Much Non-Coaching As Coaching

CONNOLLY

I guess it is all for the best the way things turned out for Frankie Albert, former coach of the San Francisco 49ers, one of the big disappointments in the National Football League race of 1958.

What I mean is that the "hand writing" was on the wall long before Frankie signed as coach.

All this chatter, of course, strictly is scuttlebutt, I gathered while in Frankie's home town the last few weeks.

Whereever I went I heard about the Albert's case with the 49ers.

But only when I got it straight from one of Frankie's pals did I decide that maybe the real story should be told.

SO HERE it goes. And I hope it will clarify things for Frankie's well meaning friends in the Bay Area.

When Albert first was considered as a coach for the 49ers, it was the late Tony Morabito who picked him.

And to make it real attractive for Albert, the late Tony suggested, to the stockholders of the 49ers, that they sell Frankie 10 per cent of the stock in the club.

Everybody, I am told, agreed, excepting Vic Morabito, the present boss of the 49ers. And from that debate on to the day he was fired, Frankie Albert and Vic Morabito have never been too chummy.

I am told that Albert, from his 5 per cent holding in the club, will earn as much not coaching as he would if he was head man. Which is to say that Frankie, now that he isn't with the club, gets an annual check of around $20,000 dividend a year and has no headaches or worries.

FRANKIE ALBERT, I am told, went out of his way to inform everybody in pro football in Los Angeles that "Red" Hickey did nothing to undermine him.

"It was a clean deal all the way, "Frankie told my fran. "Red was picked when I decided to call it quits. But Red would never have sought the job while I was in the saddle."

So you see, sometimes a fellow has to get away from home to get the real low down on things in his own neighborhood.

Albert, they tell me, has offers of all sorts of jobs, and might still go along with football in some fashion or other. He leans a little toward TV and might end up being a hustler for ads for the football commercials.

BUT DON'T let anybody tell you that Frankie has a "beef" on with Red Hickey, the new coach. In fact I am told that Frankie thinks Red will get along famously with Vic Moribato.

AND WHILE we're talking about football, let me tell you an interesting thing that happened to me in the Huntington Hotel a few days before the Rose Bowl tussle between Iowa and California.

A bright young man approached me in the barber shop and wanted to know if I knew of anybody who could use eight tickets to the Rose Bowl.

"How much per ticket!" I asked.

"You can have the eight tickets for $160 cash or $20 per ticket," said the young man.

"Why shouldn't the university make it up to us players," he said. "The university rides the gravy train for $103,000 so why should you or anyone else question me on the ethics of selling, at scalper prices, my tickets?"

I told the young man I could walk across the Arroyo Seco and look out my son's window and see the game for nothing,

And did he run!

Physical Fitness Classes Resume

The Saturday physical fitness program conducted by the San Rafael Recreation and Park Department will resume next Saturday at the San Rafael High School gym.

The program will include tumbling and trampoline for boys and physical fitness testing for girls. The boys are requested to wear gym shorts and tennis shoes.

Classes will begin at 9, 10 and 11 a.m.

Russell, Baylor Will Play In Cow Palace Game Jan. 11

Bill Russell, Bob Cousy, Elgin Baylor and Bill Sharman have been selected as four of the first 10 men to play in the annual professional basketball East-West Pro game to be held in Detroit later this year.

All four stars will be seen in San Francisco prior to this game when the Boston Celtics meet the Minneapolis Lakers in the first pro league game on the coast at the Cow Palace, Jan. 11, starting at 7:15 p.m.

The game will be played with proceeds going to the Salesian Boys' Club and from all indications of ticket demands, a capacity throng of 16,600 is expected for the tussle which will pit the first place Celtics and the strong, much-improved Lakers.

Bay Area fans are anxiously awaiting the battle of the greats — the defensive all-star big Bill Russell and the offensive power Elgin Baylor.

Russell dominated the rebounding picture in the NBA last season and this year is again leading the pack. If records mean anything, he must be the greatest rebounder in the history of the game.

The former USF All-American broke the rebounding record of Bob Pettit last year, picking off 1,564 rebounds. He had also taken over the record of the best average of rebounds per game with a total of 22.7 per game.

Russell has improved his scoring record this year and is averaging 20 points per game.

Ramponi Wins Over Feaster

RICHMOND (UPI)—Art Ramponi, Richmond lightweight making a comeback after nearly two years in the Army, won a 10-round decision last night over Jimmy Feaster of Las Vegas.

Although he had the edge, Ramponi had his hands full most of the way. In the ninth round, he partially closed Feaster's left eye.

There were no knockdowns. Referee Jack Silver scored it 98-94 for Ramponi.

It was Ramponi's 21st win in 33 fights. Each fighter weighed in at 137.

Preliminary results:

Chet Sheppard, 169, Oakland, dec. Gene Brasherd, 164, Crockett, (4); Ronnie Perez, 124, Oakland, dec. Charlie Marshall, 120, Las Vegas, Nev., (6); Tony Dominguez, 159, Oakland, KO'd Willie Moon, 164, San Francisco, (2).

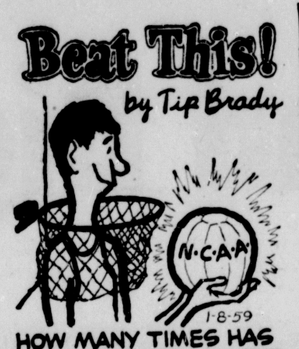

Jimmy Brown Honored

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Jimmy Brown, the Cleveland Browns' sensational fullback who set a National Football League ground-gaining record this season, has been chosen American Athlete of the Year by the Philadelphia Sportswriters Assn.

HOW MANY TIMES HAS KENTUCKY BEEN NAMED NATIONAL HOOP CHAMP?

The Helms Athletic Foundation named Kentucky the national champion six times, 1933, '48, '49, '51, '54, '58. Officially the Wildcats have won four NCAA championship tournaments. It has also won 18 Southeastern championships since 1931. Adolph Rupp coached all of the winners.

JOBS MIGHT VANISH

Fears Of Coaches Cause College Cage 'Slowdown'

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — College basketball is buried in a morass of clutching, grabbing and stalling which remains, and will remain, only because of the selfishness of the coaches.

Pro basketball sold itself to the spectators by installing a 24-second time limit on possession. But the colleges stubbornly refuse to move out of the roundball dark ages and continue to play the same old slow down game.

The answer is in the coaches, their fears of defeat and the inevitable retribution of the alumni.

This becomes obvious when you talk to a group of them. They know all too well that speed and height would be of tremendous importance in a relentless, crowd-pleasing game where both teams were forced to drive right up to the final basket.

In the final analysis, they are fearful that the margins of defeat would often be tremendous and their jobs might hang in the balance.

So they are all too content to play the slow down game where the margins of defeat will be "respectable" even though it means a dull, listless, stalling contest in the late stages.

Ken Norton of Manhattan, a member of the NCAA rules committee, once again is stumping for the pro-type possession limit. He admits that his efforts probably are doomed for the coaches voted 2 to 1 against the proposition in a questionnaire sent out last year.

"This is a dull, sloppy game we are playing," he snorts. "It is a desolate situation. Because of the leading team's stalling tactics there is no way of getting back into a game once you fall 10 points behinds.

Norton points, as evidence, to a Bradle-Dartmouth game in which there wasn't a shot taken during 16 minutes of the second half. He also frets over such instances as a game in Philadelphia in which "it took about a half hour to play the last three minutes because of the constant fouling."

The coaches generally provide weak and inane arguments for the opposition. The time possession limit, they contend, would force bad shots; stereotype play; encourage the lacklustre zone defense and, how silly can it get, the clock would be too expensive.

Lou Rossini of NYU hits the nail squarely, however, when he says:

"If we have a time rule, the teams without height and speed would be losing by 20 to 40 point spreads."

There is the basic reason why the college coaches fight the time limit. There would be too great a difference between the haves and the have-nots. They know that, under current rules, the haves are willing to run up a 10-point edge and then stall the rest of the way. In this manner, nobody gets hurt too badly.

There is a real hurt, however, and that's to college basketball.

Here's Recap Of How Hunters, Fishermen Fared During 1958

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Another year of California hunting and fishing has gone on the record books, along with all the tall tales, bickering, griping, bragging and the entertainment, relaxation and satisfaction that go with it.

As often is the case, the Weather Man played an important part for hunters, spoiling the seasons on deer and waterfowl although providing fair but dry weather for the pheasant season. Earlier in the year, record-heavy rains in Northern California ruined fishing in the large rivers but provided abundant feed and cover for wildlife.

Picking at random a dozen subjects, here's a brief rundown on 1958:

1. LICENSES — This was the year the new fees for hunting and fishing licenses took effect. License sales for both hunters and anglers, as well as pheasant and deer tags fell off. However, this was attributed as much to the economic recession as to resistance to the higher fees. Income to the Department of Fish and Game, of course, was higher than in the previous year but failed to match the estimates made when the license hike was voted in 1957.

2. INVESTIGATION — It was the year of the "study to end all studies" — and $100,000 investigation performed by Booz, Allen and Hamilton. The report will have as many interpretations as it has readers but, alas, will have too few of the latter because of its bulk and indirect presentation. Thus, facts from the report can be expected to be used on both sides of any future pitches.

3. ADMINISTRATION — As an election year, 1958 saw the end of the administration of Gov. Goodwin J. Knight. His appointee, Director Seth Gordon, is expected to be replaced within the first weeks of the new year. Gov. Edmund G. Brown, however, will not control the Fish and Game Commission (by having the majority on the commission his own appointees) until Jan. 15, 1962.

4. DEER — The deer kill in the Sierra season dropped by 10 per cent from 1957, which had shown a decline also. Coastal kill was about the same. Lack of storms to begin migration was credited for much of the drop in success.

5. SALMON — With nets banned from the Sacramento-San Joaquin river above Carquinez Straits, the salmon showed signs of some comeback. Nimbus hatchery near Sacramento has taken 13 million eggs, thus far, up 12 million from this time a year ago.

6. TROUT — Releases of fingerlings and catchables were higher than 1957, although license sales were down. The department warned a cut in the limit is a "must" in the future.

7. PHEASANTS — Total pheasant kill for the year was estimated to be down from 1957 by about the number of hens killed in 1957. None were permitted in 1958. Dry weather permitted an unusual amount of plowing, making cover scarce

8. WATERFOWL — High populations failed to produce good hunting, due to bluebird and record high and dry weather.

9. WARMWATER FISH — A milestone in warmwater fisheries was reached with the opening of the Pardee Reservoir to fishing. Others should follow.

10. TROUT BAIT — Meat was outlawed as a bait for trout, on a conservation and sportsmanship basis, with dairy products expected to be banned in 1959.

11. DOVES — Another concerted move to remove doves from the game bird list, and protect them as song birds, appeared to have started and stopped well before the opening of the 1959 legislative session.

12. BUSCH BILL — The deer management bill had its first year in operation, although the Fish and Game Commission did not live by its intent. More than half a dozen special hunts were held under its provisions.

Fights Last Night

DETROIT — Wilf Greaves, 162, Edmonton, stopped Otis Woodward, 162, New York, 2.

RICHMOND—Art Ramponi, 137, Richmond, outpointed Jimmy Feaster, 137, Las Vegas, Nev., 10.

Giants To Stage Coaches' Clinic At COP Saturday

More than 350 high school and college coaches in the northern California area will attend the baseball clinic to be conducted jointly by the San Francisco Giants and the Athletic Department of the College of Pacific at the COP gymnasium and athletic field at Stockton this Saturday.

The clinic agenda—for both the indoor and outdoor sessions—assures a thorough baseball study, with emphasis on its practical application to baseball at the high school level. With the Giants this is an annual program.

Jack Myers, director of athletics, and baseball coaches Sid Hall and "Chuck" Chatfield will represent COP at the clinic, and the Giants' faculty will be a thoroughly representative group headed by Manager Bill Rigney. Other Giant personnel, players and coaches, include Carl Hubbell, director of the Giants' farm system; Coaches Bill Posedel and Frank "Lefty" O'Doul, players Stu Miller and Jimmy Davenport, and scouts Eddie Montague and Roy Partee. Among them they will cover all phases of baseball play—strategy, tactics, base running, batting and defensive play.

The clinic is scheduled to start at 9 a.m. with the registration period slated for the preceding half hour. The oral clinic sessions will be conducted in the gymnasium in the morning, and with weather permitting there will be practical field demonstrations in the afternoon.

ANY PARTY'S A TEA PARTY—For the ladies, serve nut-rich royal strudelettes; for the men, robust rye-wiches; for the teen-agers, serve cheese-topped beanies. And treat them all to tea.

Tea Popularity On The Increase

Once upon a time if you mentioned the words "tea party" the mind immediately pictured lace tablecloth, candles, fussy sandwiches and flower-decked mints. Nowadays, however, tea is coming into its own as an all-occasion beverage. It's as much at home at a teen-agers' dance or a poker party for the boys as at a ladies' luncheon.

There are two good reasons for this. One is that tea is a beverage to relax over, not one to gulp in a hurry. It belongs in an atmosphere of friendliness. Another reason is that its fine sparkling flavor goes as well with hearty, man-type foods as with the daintiest petits fours.

Interesting at any tea party —meaning any party at which tea is served—are "royal strudelettes," rich nut-filled pastries with appeal to masculine and feminine tastes of all ages. Men especially will go for robust sandwiches of dark rye bread with sharply savory fillings; teen-agers will like the intriguing combination of baked beans and Cheddar cheese.

The tea must be good tea perfectly brewed if the party is to be a success. It may be served hot or iced to make a perfect cup or glass of tea, and provide full enjoyment of any goodies served with it.

ROYAL STRUDELETTES

Pastry:
- ½ cup margarine or butter
- 1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Filling:
- 2 egg whites
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 cup canned pecans, ground

Cut the margarine into the flour with a pastry blender until like small peas. Combine egg yolks with lemon juice and rind and mix into flour lightly with a fork. Divide dough into 24 pieces; shape each into a ball. Refrigerate several hours or overnight.

When ready to bake strudelettes, make the filling: Beat egg whites until they stand in peaks; gradually beat in sugar, continuing to beat until stiff and glossy. Fold in nuts. Then roll each ball of dough out into 4-inch circle; spread with some of filling; roll up like jelly roll. Place, seam side down, onto ungreased baking sheet. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 350°F, or until golden. Cool on wire racks. Sprinkle lightly with confectioners' sugar. Makes 24.

RYE-WICHES

Put together 3 or 4 slices of dark rye bread with the following fillings; chill. To serve, cut into wedges.

Horseradish-cheese: Combine 1 3-oz. pkg. soft cream cheese with ½ teaspoon bottled prepared horseradish, dash salt.

Liverwurst-chili: Combine ½ cup mashed liverwurst with 2 tablespoons chili sauce.

BEANIES

Spread Melba toast with some of Boston bean filling below; top with American cheese cut into small shapes.

Boston Bean Filling: Drain canned Boston baked beans well; mash with fork. Blend 1 cup of mixture with 2 tablespoons catchup.

VOGUE KNOWS BEAUTY ONIONS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Knowing your onions—and other vegetables and fruits—will improve beauty as well as health.

The editors of Vogue's annual Beauty Book advise eating green pepper strips, carrots, berries and nuts to keep nails from splitting and breaking.

Grapes, eaten in the afternoon, give fast energy. Apricots, escarole, and kale, which are rich in Vitamin A, add lustre to the hair.

Tomatoes, full of Vitamin C, provide the body's cement, a protection against bruises.

Oranges and lemons help fight off infections and keep skin elastic and bones supple.

Yesterday's Roast Can Be Enticing

Brighten Monday's dinner with this elegant entree; your family won't mind eating Sunday's roast again if you prepare ti this unusual way. You don't need to tell them it's made with left-over beef unless you want to.

Monday is usually a busy day in most households, and we know you'll welcome something that can be prepared in jig-time and still be delicious and different. Complete the menu with an avocado and grapefruit salad and, for a vegetable, make it easy on yourself by heating a can of green beans and topping the beans with a sauce made from equal parts of mayonnaise and Parmesan cheese.

MONDAY'S BEEF—STROGANOFF
- 1 (4-ounce) can sliced mushrooms
- 2 cups diced cooked beef
- 1½ cups Burgundy wine
- ¾ cup finely chopped onion
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- ⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup commercial sour cream
- Snipped parsley or chives
- Hot cooked rice or noodles

Drain liquor from mushrooms into measuring cup. Add water to make ½ cup liquid. Combine with beef, wine, onion, paprika, garlic powder and salt; cook covered 30 to 40 minutes. Blend in sour cream and herbs, and heat. Serve over hot cooked rice or noodles.

Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Vary Hot Dogs

Vary hot dogs by slitting one side and stuffing with slivered or grated cheese, relish, applesauce or canned crushed pineapple.

Nibble's Worth At Snack Time

Snacks are here to stay! Americans today are eating up to three snacks every day — all this in addition to breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Women at home and husbands at work have a midmorning "coffee break"; school-age children are given midmorning milk or juice; there is the afternoon tea or cocktail hour for grownups; while teen-agers make an after-school rush for refreshments. Many families have the habit of munching while watching television during the evening—and, finally, there are the bedtime snacks.

Virginia Porter, Home Advisor with the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, reports that studies were made of the eating habits of teen-agers in several of the western states. The surveys show that while many teen-agers are getting most of the nutrients they need from their food, there is still a lot of room for improvement. Girls eat a poorer diet than boys. At this age most boys have a healthy appetite and eat most foods served to them. But the girls may be concerned about their weight and actually avoid foods needed for a pretty complexion and good health.

NIBBLE'S WORTH

Do the snacks at your house contribute only calories—or are they helping your family to get the foods needed every day? Snacking can undermine the family's health if these extra meals are filled only with calories. The practice of serving and eating snacks which are too sweet or starchy often results in obesity and poor nutrition. On the other hand, snacks can help the family's well being.

Mrs. Porter suggests a leaflet "Spotlight on Teen-Age Snacks," published by the University of California Agricultural Extension Service which has recipes for snacks making use of "good for you" foods. After all, snacks are eaten for fun and should taste good, so if you have fruit served attractively, raw vegetables cold and crisp, cheese dips, dried fruit, peanut butter candies or cold fruit drink, children will be satisfied.

They will have foods that will help build strong bones and teeth, make rich red blood, give them pep and energy and a general appearance of good health.

For a copy of "Spotlight on Teen-Age Snacks" contact the Agricultural Extension Service Office by phone at GLenwood 3-2515 or write to the office, Room 2, Post Office Building, San Rafael.

Raised Doughnut With Hole Is Still The Most Popular

What are round, square, twisted or shaped like a life saver and take to coffee, like a duck takes to water? They're doughnuts, of course. Of all the varieties, one of the most popular is the sugary light hearted yeast-raised doughnut with the hole in the center.

This shape is a rather new innovation discovered by a sea captain who found they cooked through better when the center was removed. And if you're a dunker they're easier to hold, too. Dunker or no, here's how to make light and tender yeast raised doughnuts for serving with meals or with coffee any time of day.

RAISED DOUGHNUTS
- 1¾ cups milk
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- 2 tablespoons butter
- ¼ cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
- 2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 6 cups sifted enriched flour

Scald milk. Remove from heat and stir in sugar, salt and nutmeg and butter; cool to lukewarm. Measure water into bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in well-beaten eggs and half the flour (3 cups); beat until smooth.

Cover and let rise in a warm place, free from draft until yeast mixture more than doubled in bulk (about 30 minutes). Stir down and beat in remaining 3 cups of flour. Turn dough out on lightly floured board; knead lightly to shape into a smooth ball. Divide dough.

Roll each half into a circle ½-inch thick. Cut with doughnut cutter and place on baking sheets. Cover with clean towel and let rise in warm place free from draft until double in bulk, about 30 minutes. Fry in deep hot fat 365°F., until golden brown, turning once. Do not prick with a fork or it will sink. Drain, sprinkle with granulated sugar. Serve hot.

Makes 3 dozen raised doughnuts.

Ever try the large tubular pasta called manicotti? It may be cooked, drained and stuffed with meat or cheese mixtures and then be reheated in a tomato sauce.

Gala Night Calls Forth Champagne

French Champagne is the King of Wines, and, what's more, its high prestige can easily be made to add glamour to your own table. James A. Beard, the noted gourmet and author has a few simple tips on how to treat and to taste it in order to get the maximum enjoyment from it.

1. "Champagne," says Jim, "like all wines, should be stored lying on its side to keep the cork from drying out and allowing precious bubbles to escape." Jim's cellar consists of a rack, available at most good department stores, right in a closet of his apartment. It is always good to have a dozen bottles of wine, including a couple of French Champagne, on hand, he says.

2. French Champagne should be cooled before drinking it. There are two methods of doing this. One is to put it in your refrigerator on its side, and leave it there for about two hours before you use it. The other is to put the bottle in a bucket — any kind of bucket will do—half filled with water and a couple of trays of ice cubes. This will cool the Champagne to exactly the right temperature, after half an hour or so.

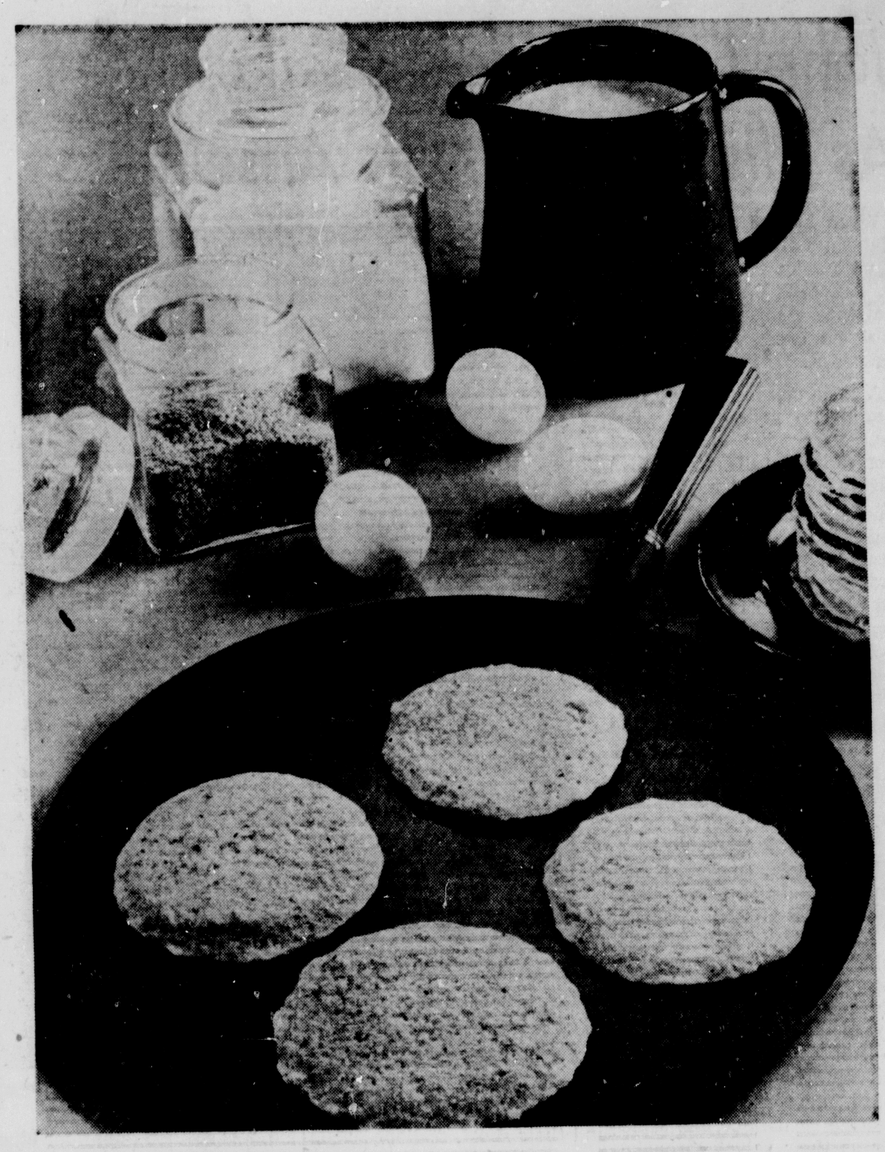

3. Opening the bottle is something of an art. After removing the wire and tinfoil, hold the cork firmly and twist the bottle itself. Open it gently but firmly and you will avoid having the foam pour out, thus losing some of the precious golden liquid.

4. Pour only a little at a time, to avoid a foaming overflow, until the glass is about ⅔ full. This leaves space between the wine and the lip of the glass in which the pleasant aroma of the French Champagne can concentrate to titillate your nostrils. Sniff the champagne's clean briskness, then sip it slowly to savor every delicious drop.

5. To prevent your hand's warmth from warming the wine, it is best to hold the glass by its stem. Professionals, and some ultra careful amateurs, like to hold the glass by its base so there is absolutely no risk of warmth affecting the Champagne.

French Champagne can be drunk at any time and with any and all kinds of food. A glass at cocktail time, says gourmet Beard, is delightfully refreshing, and Champagne is the only wine that can be drunk throughout a meal. As the old monk, Dom Perignon, who first discovered how to keep the bubbles in a bottle of French Champagne once said, "It's like drinking stars."

Mr. Beard, who has written many books on eating and drinking, obviously practices what he preaches. He is 6'4" tall, and weighs 300 pounds. He has visited the French Champagne cellars many times, and his own "cellars" are well stocked with France's most glamorous wine.

GRIDDLE CAKES WITH WHEAT GERM—These wheat germ griddle cakes have real old-fashioned appeal with their full whole wheat flavor. They are tender, light-textured and nutrition-rich.

Wheat Germ Griddle Cakes Nutritious, Tasty, Too

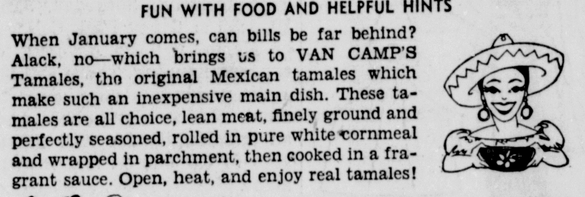

A good beginning with a good breakfast is half the battle when a hard day's work is to be done. And, one of the best inducements to taking the time for a good breakfast is a menu which features old-fashioned griddle cakes topped with melting butter, doused with warm syrup and accompanied with sizzling, fragrantly spiced sausage.

Although food historians tell us that the preparation of griddle cakes goes back to the first dishes prepared by man (when a mixture of meal and water was baked on a hot stone), there's something very new about the following recipe. The batter is made with twice as much wheat germ as flour. The result is a griddle cake with wonderful whole wheat flavor reminiscent of time-taking, yeast-raised buckwheat cakes.

Of course, in addition to its contribution toward the flavor and texture of the griddle cakes, the high wheat germ content provides a generous amount of protein, B vitamins, iron and other essential nutrients. It adds to the diet the kind of food that means the difference between just limping along and the feeling of exuberant, abundant health.

WHEAT GERM GRIDDLE CAKES
- 3 eggs
- 1½ cups milk
- ¼ cup melted butter
- 1 cup wheat germ
- ½ cup flour
- ½ cup sugar
- ⅛ teaspoon salt

Beat eggs. Add milk and melted butter. Combine wheat germ, flour, sugar and salt; mix well. Add the egg mixture to the wheat germ mixture all at once and stir lightly and only until blended. Use batter immediately or, if more convenient, batter may be kept in refrigerator for several hours or overnight. Pour batter (about one-fourth cup) to form three- or four-inch griddle cakes onto a hot seasoned griddle. If necessary to prevent sticking, grease griddle lightly with an unsalted fat like corn oil. When bubbles appear evenly across the cakes but before they break, turn to brown the other side. Makes 10 to 12 griddle cakes.

FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

When January comes, can bills be far behind? Alack, no—which brings us to VAN CAMP'S Tamales, the original Mexican tamales which make such an inexpensive main dish. These tamales are all choice, lean meat, finely ground and perfectly seasoned, rolled in pure white cornmeal and wrapped in parchment, then cooked in a fragrant sauce. Open, heat, and enjoy real tamales!

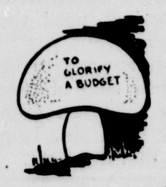

So Johnny's a senior in high school! Gay times ahead for him—ice skating, dances, rallies, parties. Now's the time to introduce him to DIAL Soap, the modern soap that does double duty. Its wonderful ingredient AT-7 kills the bacteria that cause perspiration odor, and can cause blemishes on a youthful skin. DIAL will keep Johnny the best-groomed young man in class.

★ Breakfast should provide at least one-fourth of the teenager's daily food, say health authorities, who urge eggs as high protein food.

Want to win the DSC medal at home? You'll be known as the Distinguished Soup Concocter the first time you serve GOLDEN GRAIN Minestrone Soup, made in minutes on your own stove. It's one of three luxurious new mixes, Onion Soup, Alphabet Soup and Minestrone which the GOLDEN GRAIN people have added to their fine family of delicious foods.

Winter vegetables sometimes are a problem when you're planning dinner. But add ROYAL TREAT Mushrooms to frozen green beans and you have a vegetable dish for a king. Cook a package of beans following the label directions, drain, and toss in a can of ROYAL TREATS, including the tempting juice. Reheat, simmer to reduce the moisture, add a pat of butter and serve.

It's back to school for the small fry, and back to lunch-packing for Mom! Want a quick spread for a sandwich you can make the night before? Combine flaked WHITE STAR Tuna and pickle-relish. Spread the bread slices with mayonnaise, and wrap sandwiches individually in aluminum foil. Refrigerate till used. WHITE STAR Tuna is delicately-flavored tuna; youngsters love it.

★ Diced fruit, added to waffle batter, adds glamour as well as flavor.

It's always time for REYNOLDS WRAP in my kitchen—yours, too? I find this wonderful aluminum foil is fun as well as useful—you can fashion your own cookie pans or wrap baking potatoes in it for better taste. And REYNOLDS WRAP is practically a must for a special occasion—it is ideal for creating an impromptu center piece or place card decorations for the table.

Wintertime, summertime, babies need Vitamin C for sound body tissues, but they need it especially in winter. GERBER Strained juices for little ones are prepared in easy to digest form, and supply the all-important C in healthful quantities. GERBER Orange Juice and Apple Juice, Strained Pineapple Grapefruit or Orange Pineapple are favorites with small gourmets.

"Waffles for breakfast!" Three magic words—and isn't it worth a bit of extra trouble, to see the alarm clock brigade perk up? Serve KARO Syrup with the crisp, brown waffles—Green Label for those who like the tang of maple; Blue Label or Red for those who prefer their syrup dark or light. (Why not all three decanters on the table? Let the youngsters choose their own syrup.)

That's all for now! See you next week! Bonnie Hubbard

John Curry Claims Leilani Deyl As His Bride At St. Anselm's

When Leilani June Deyl exchanged marriage vows recently with John Patrick Curry at St. Anselm's Church in Ross, she wore a full-length Victorian-styled dress with a matching jacket.

A satin apron with vertical banding to match the jacket came to a point in the front over the full tulle skirt which had a three-tiered hoop.

Leilani had designed and made her own headdress, a coronet of seed pearls which held her fingertip-length veil, and those of her attendants. Carrying out a blue and white motif, her shower bouquet of white orchids and bouvardia was tied with pale blue ribbon.

The bride, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Deyl of San Rafael, was given in marriage by her father and the Rev. John Dollard officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride's cousin, Gayle Scroggs of Sacramento, maid of honor, and Marilyn Mathews of Sacramento and Martha Crane of San Rafael, bridesmaids, were gowned in powder blue taffeta, designed with scoop necklines, short sleeves and full skirts. Their gloves were powder blue and they carried shower bouquets of tangerine carnations, the same color as their velvet coronets, and their short, scalloped veils were powder blue.

ST. ANSELM'S Church in Ross was the setting for the recent wedding of Leilani June Deyl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Deyl of San Rafael, and John Patrick Curry of San Anselmo.

(Bob Hax photo)

Ernie Mazet of San Anselmo was best man. Also a resident of that city was Joseph Nevi, an usher. The other usher was Thomas Blum of San Rafael. Poinsettias and greens were the altar decorations.

The early afternoon ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The three-tiered, pillared wedding cake was topped with a bride's bouquet, tied with blue tulle, and encircled with blue carnations and white bouvardia.

The bride's mother wore a Dior blue silk sheath with matching jacket and flowered hat. A purple orchid was pinned to her purse.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. John Curry of San Anselmo, was gowned in powder blue silk. Pink feathers were on her navy blue hat and she had a purple orchid corsage.

When the newlyweds board- a plane at the International Airport in San Francisco for a 10-day honeymoon in Palm Springs, the new Mrs. Curry was wearing a tangerine and white wool sheath with black cummerbund. Her coat was black and her hat and gloves white. The young couple will reside in a San Francisco apartment and the bride, who was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin, will be a student at City College of San Francisco. The bridegroom, a graduate of Marin Catholic High School, is attending University of San Francisco. He is employed by the Security Lithograph Co.

Corte Madera Club To Hear Talk By Mrs. Robert Merritt

A festive event is planned for Tuesday, Jan. 13, when members of the Corte Madera Women's Club will gather at Recreation Center at 1 o'clock, to hear Mrs. Robert Merritt talk of life on the Ryuku Islands of the Pacific.

Describing the talk is the title: "Is Like Typhoon." The underlying thought is that after suffering through many losses and tragedies because of typhoons and devastating rains, the people have learned to come up smiling under any tragedy. When her husband's tour of duty as an officer of the U.S. Air Force ended, they asked to come back.

The family was especially interested in furthering the growth of churches, the blind school, and a colony for improving conditions among lepers.

Following the talk, a tea is planned. Mrs. Joseph Thomas and Mrs. Ray Osborne will act as hostesses. Mrs. Earl Stover, program chairman, who has also lived in Okinawa, will bring art objects to decorate the table, along with spring blossoms.

A business meeting will precede the talk, but Mrs. Stover urged early arrival, as the front seats will be best for viewing the pictures, and these will go to first 'comers.'

Marin Women

NANCY SIMONS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Simons of Belvedere, whose engagement to Donald W. Peterson has been announced. The bride-elect will be graduated from Stanford in June and a summer wedding is planned.

Catholic Daughters Holding Sectional Meeting Jan. 26

Mrs. Edwin A. Clancy, state regent of the Catholic Daughters of America, will welcome representatives at a sectional meeting for the San Francisco Archdiocese to be held Monday evening, Jan. 26, at 7:30 in the large downstairs room at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco.

The program will open with a demonstration of the ritual, and will be followed by a question and answer period conducted by Mrs. Clancy.

District deputies, grand regents, vice grand regents and monitors from 32 courts will converge from the Peninsula, San Francisco, East Bay and Marin County, to represent their membership. State chairmen attending include Mesdames James Logan, Pittsburg, extension; Jacques E. Bernou, Oakland, public relations, and Albert L. Fox, Fairfax, world missions.

For Clock Racers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tapioca pudding with a party air can be made quickly and easily with cartoned or bottled chocolate milk.

Beat 1 egg white until foamy, add 2 tablespoons sugar, one at a time, and continue beating until stiff and glossy.

Beat 1 egg yolk, add 2 cups chocolate milk, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 2 tablespoons sugar and ⅛ teaspoon salt. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture reaches a boil, about 5 to 8 minutes.

Pour a small amount of hot mixture into egg white, blending well. Stir in remaining hot mixture, add ½ teaspoon vanilla, and cool slightly. Turn into 4 or 6 sherbet glasses, top with shredded coconut and grated unsweetened chocolate. Chill.

BON VOYAGE PARTY GIVEN FOR HECHTS

Members of Alpha Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi gave a bon voyage party for their sorority sister, Mrs. Marston Hecht, and her husband recently at the San Rafael home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schau.

Mr. and Mrs. Hecht leave on Jan. 12 for a three months trip around the world. They are flying north and will board the "Hikawa Maui" for the trans-Pacific cruise from Vancouver. There will be a brief stay in Hawaii before leaving for Japan. From then on much of the journey will be air. The Hechts are going to Vietnam, Cambodia, Thailand, Burma, India, Egypt and Greece. From Athens they will fly to Rome. On their itinerary are Italy, Switzerland, France and the British Isles and they will make the new jet flight to New York where the travelers will stay a few days before returning home.

Present at the bon voyage party were Messrs. and Mesdames Hecht, Schau, Joseph Brucia, Angelo Colombo, Ernest Hand, Herschel Johnson, Louis Marelli, Theodore Mitchell, William Parker, Robert Steele, Charles Williams, Lawson Wood, Mrs. Dorothy De La Montanya, Mrs. Corleen McPhee and Mark Fontana.

Society Plans Workshop On Pruning

The Redwood Fuchsia Society will hold its first meeting of the new year Friday at 8 p.m. in Tiburoner's Hall, Tiburon.

Feature of the evenings will be a workshop on pruning done by four experts: Phil Reedstrom, Mrs. Susie Waltz, George Coleman and Joe Green.

According to Edward Johnson, president, meetings for the next five months will be of great importance to fuchsia lovers since they will be devoted to fuchsia culture. Subsequent programs will be planned around re-potting, pinching and shaping and feeding, watering and spraying.

A plant table and refreshments will complete the evening.

There is no charge and guests are welcome.

Mill Valleyans Visit Missions

Mr. and Mrs. John Nason and Mrs. Nason's sister, Miss Grace Costello, all of Mill Valley, have returned home from a trip to visit 21 missions from as far north as Sonoma and south to Mexicali, Mexico.

They saw the old year out and welcomed the new with friends at Carmel and attended the New Year's Day mass at the Mission San Carlos Borromeo Del Rio Carmel. They also visited some friends in Palm Springs.

Mrs. Nason reports that they found the Mission San Antonio De Padua at Jolon, Calif., the most interesting of all the missions they visited because it seemed to have more of the typical charm for which the old missions are famous.

For Candle Wax

To remove candle wax drippings from furniture, crumble off as much wax as possible with the fingers. Then scrape gently with the dull edge of a table knife. Hold an ice cube on the remaining wax for a few seconds, then apply furniture wax. Be sure to wipe up water from the ice immediately.

NANCY SIMON'S BETROTHAL TO DON PETERSON REVEALED

The girls at Stillman House on the Stanford University campus feasted on sweets Monday night as Nancy Joan Simons of Belvedere provided the treat to announce her engagement to Donald W. Peterson. The glad news was revealed to her relatives at a Christmas Eve gathering at the home of Nancy's great aunt, Mrs. R. K. VanMater in St. Helena.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Simons of Belvedere, formerly of Kentfield and Berkeley, is the granddaughter of Admiral and Mrs. Manley H. Simons of San Marino and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Webber of Palo Alto. Nancy, who will be graduated from Stanford in June, attended Northwestern University for two years. She was a member of the Olympic Swimming team in 1956. She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School in 1955.

Don, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Peterson of Tacoma, Wash., has a brother, James, who is now serving in the Navy. The future benedict, who is in business in San Francisco, was graduated from the Stanford Graduate School of Business last June, and did his undergraduate work at Oregon State. He served three years in the Navy and is now a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve. He is a member of the Olympic Club in San Francisco.

The young couple plans to be married in the summer.

St. Rita's Guild To Meet Monday

The regular monthly meeting of St. Rita's Women's Guild will be held at the Parish Hall in Fairfax, on Monday, Jan. 12, at 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. Charles D. Gnecco will give a report on the Communion and Brunch to be held on Mar. 6.

Mrs. Lawrence J. McCormick has been appointed general chairman of the Annual Luncheon and Fashion Show, to be held at the Meadow Club in April.

In charge of refreshments will be Mrs. R. Rannallo and Mrs. A. Conti.

Make double batches of spaghetti sauce and chicken a la king and store one batch of each dish in your freezer.

Concert Planning Will Be Topic For Music Club

The Marin Junior Music Club meeting, Saturday, Jan. 10, 1:30 at Olney Hall, College of Marin, will be devoted to concert planning. There will be a discussion on stage deportment, choice of numbers and an opportunity for new members to try out on any instrument.

A new set of officers will be elected for the coming year.

Subscription orders for Keyboard Jr., club magazine, will be taken.

Marinwood Squires Dance Tomorrow

The Marinwood Country Squires Folk and Square Dance Club extends an invitation to all folk dancers to attend its first party of the new year tomorrow evening at the Mary E. Silveira School in Marinwood.

Dancing will begin at 8 p.m. and continue until 11 o'clock.

Shedding Is Natural

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)— There's no need to be alarmed if a new carpet "fluffs" or "sheds," advises University of Illinois home furnishings specialist Dorothy Iwig.

The fluff that comes to the surface of new carpets is loose pile left by the manufacturing process. It doesn't mean the carpet is coming apart. Just vacuum the carpet until the fluff disappears.

If the carpet appears to be "sprouting," just snip off the high tufts so they are even with the other tufts. Miss Iwig advised. Don't pull them out.

French Women Appreciate Husbands Says Film Star's Wife

My DOROTHY ROE

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I want an old-fashioned house with an old-fashioned fence and an old-fashioned millionaire."

This has been the announced ambition of Berthe Fredrique Jourdan, since she was a 10-year-old school girl in France. Now, as wife of the French film star, Louis Jourdan, and mother of his 7-year-old son, also named Louis but never called Junior, life is complete for small, blonde, casual and always chic "Quique" Jourdan pronouced "Keek."

"It's the luckiest thing in the world for Louis that he married a wife with no talent and no ambitions," says Quique. "In France we are brought up to know how to appreciate a husband. There it is not so easy to get married, because there a man can have a mistress and nobody even raises an eyebrow. When you do get married, it's for life.

"I think it is a better system than here, where you go to Las Vegas and get married on a whim, and if it doesn't work out, go back to Las Vegas and get a divorce."

Louis and Quique met in southern France during the German occupation of Paris, when he was an established French star and a member of the French resistance movement at 20, and she was just a girl with a goal. They were married in 1946 and came immediately to Hollywood, where they have lived ever since, making annual excursions back to Europe.

The Jourdans are members of Hollywood's ultra-chic social circle, made up mostly of producers, directors and an occasional writer. They entertain charmingly in their comfortable, mellow Beverly Hills home, furnished mostly with French antiques and books. They avoid night clubs and public appearances. They enjoy life.

Jourdan has played opposite most of filmdom's top-voltage stars. But none of these charmers give Quique an instant's anxiety.

Quique says she did not swoon when she first met Louis, and that it was his mind and his soul that first attracted her, rather than his looks.

FRENCH ACTOR Louis Jourdan and his wife, Berthe Fredrique, relax against the fence in front of their Beverly Hills home. Mrs. "Quique" Jourdan says "it's the luckiest thing in the world for Louis that he married a wife with no talent and no ambitions." She and Louis met in southern France during German occupation of Paris.

Ceremony To Mark Playground Building

Saturday, Jan. 10 marks the big day for Pixie Place playground at the Marin Art and Garden Center. The hard work and dreams of members of Pixie Parents Inc. will materialize as construction will get underway on their new, contemporary playground.

The ground breaking ceremony will begin at 11 o'clock at the playground with a dedication speech by Mrs. Norman B. Livermore, president of the board of directors of the center. The entire board will be present. A few words will be said by Robert Royston, architect who designed and donated plans for the project.

Also present will be Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Ablin, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Evers, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ollinger, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Sedley, Mrs. Richard O'Brien, Mrs. C. K. Terwilliger, Mrs. August Laurent, Mr. and Mrs. John Terry, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell F. Dwyer.

Music will be furnished by the Las Gallinas Sanitary District's non-marching band. Refreshments will be served.

Contractors Cagwin and Dorward will handle the first phase of construction which will include grading, leveling, bulkheading and drainage. Funds to cover these expenses have been raised by the members through benefit bridge parties, a fashion show, and toy and Christmas tree sales.

Birge Clark will supervise a work party of Pixie husbands to move existing equipment and build a new fence and arbor.

Add a fashion note to pj's with a trapeze pajama coat. Tommies shows one in a colorful gingham plaid. It coordinates with solid-color cotton trousers in red or blue.

Gals Love Bosses Who Don't Boss

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)— Two University of Michigan psychologists have come up with the conclusion that women office workers don't like to be told how to perform their jobs.

After a study of women employees and supervisors in the business office of a utility company, researchers Jay Jacksan and Howard Rosenfeld said when the supervisors start mixing too much job-related talk in informal conversation, efficiency is lowered.

If a new female employee thinks there's too much job talk and too little social patter she'll begin getting ideas her work isn't up to par and in the case of a seasoned woman worker, she'll react with poorer work efforts, they said.

Jackson and Rosenfeld said the actual intentions of the supervisor apparently had no effect on either motivation or performance.

Holiday Party At Lipmans'

To celebrate the holidays, the Michel Lipmans and their son, Gene Szemanski greeted their guests at an open house in their Manor Hill home in Fairfax. A buffet supper with champagne was served before the fireplace which is situated between ceiling-high windows so as to take full advantage of the burning logs and the view of rolling hills beyond White's Hill.

Guests toured the house, viewed Gene's oil paintings and the hundreds of view cards he had collected on his round-the-world tour.

Guests, many of them nearby neighbors on the hill, were Mrs. Neils Bjeere, the Walter Brendahls, Fred Wests, Harry Zeiglers, William Torrances, Jack Costigans, Douglas Corbetts, John Thayers and son Kyle, Homer Farnums, Nelson Gamas, Bill Browns, Richard Browns, William Parkers, Mrs. Wilma Harris and son Jeffrey, all of Fairfax, Roaul Cohen-Faure of Corte Madera; the Horace W. Campbells of Santa Maria and daughter, Mrs. William Smalley of Fairfax, and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Manley of Colma.

Little Erin O'Donnell In Baptismal Rites

When little Erin Kathleen O'Donnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. O'Donnell of Lucas Valley, San Rafael, was baptized on Sunday at Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carlson of Northbridge were the proxies for her godparents, her father's sister, Mrs. James Cummings of Framingham, Mass., and her husband. The Rev. John Prindeville officiated at the baptism.

The little one has two brothers, Sean Michael and Hugh Matthew O'Donnell. Grandparents are Mrs. Jessie Davidek of Los Angeles and Mrs. Joseph O'Donnell of Framingham.

Alan Johnsons Greet Son, Steven Arthur

Mr. and Mrs. Alan H. Johnson (Sally Williams) of Sacramento are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first child. The baby, who was born on Monday, is a boy and has been named Steven Arthur. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burford Williams of San Marino and Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Johnson of Loch Lomond, San Rafael.

Alan and Sally were graduated from Stanford University together.

Planners Give Approval To 2 Subdivision Maps

The Marin County Planning Commission has given approval to tentative maps of two future subdivisions, Seadrift Lagoon in Bolinas and Trumbull Estates Unit 3, Novato.

As proposed by James A. Orr, developer of Kent Woodlands, Seadrift Lagoon will be an 83-acre, 203-lot subdivision along the sandspit at the south end of Bolinas Lagoon. The lots will be served by private roads.

One condition imposed by the planners at their meeting Monday was that a paved off-street parking area sufficient to park 50 cars diagonally be provided at the western end of the subdivision. Another was that the county health department approve disposal of sewage by septic tanks.

Trumbull Esates Unit 3, to be developed by Novato subdivider John Novak, will consist of seven lots on 1½ acres at Novato boulevard and Raposa Vista.

Mrs. Millie Moyer of 31 Raposa Vista asked that Novak be required to provide space for a school bus stop at the corner of the two streets. A bus stops at that corner now, but lack of sufficient space presents a hazard to the school children, Mrs. Moyer said.

The commission denied her request on the ground it would be unreasonable to make a subdivider provide bus stop when bus routes are subject to change from year to year.

In other matters Monday the commission:

1. Approved preliminary plans of Kirby Atterbury of Belvedere for a boat salesroom and marine supply store on Tiburon boulevard, Tiburon, and granted him a use permit for the establishment.

2. Granted the application of James E. Townsend for an adjustment permitting construction of a building at 707 Grant avenue, Novato, adjacent to Jim's Sport Shop. Architectural plans for the structure, to be used for display and sale of boats, also were approved.

3. Granted John Novak a 60-day extension of time to complete slope planting on a hillside excavation at Millwood Terrace, Novato.

4. Passed a resolution of intention to adopt special zoning regulations requested by Patricia A. Brooks and others for a downtown Tiburon duplex district on either side of Centro West street. A public hearing was set for Jan. 19 at 2 p.m.

5. Voted 3-2, Chairman William F. Upton and Commissioner Margaret Azevedo dissenting, to report to the board of supervisors the commission's previous action denying Brooks Hinton's application for duplex rezoning of a half-acre parcel at 11 South Knoll road, Strawberry. The denial was on a 3-2 favorable vote which lacked the necessary two-thirds majority for passage.

6. Approved a grading plan for Terra Linda Unit 8.

7. Granted Heers Brothers Inc. a use permit for excavation and grading for Marinwood Unit 6.

8. Approved a master plan change providing for apartment instead of restaurant construction adjacent to a service station at the northwest corner of Rowland and South Novato boulevards, Novato. The action was conditional upon approval of architectural plans and improvements of the north half of Rowland boulevard to county standards between Novato boulevard and the affected property. P. F. Williams of San Anselmo plans to build the apartment house.

Russia's population (not including the satellites) is 193 million.

4th Vaccine Shots Available At Health Center Till Feb. 8

Fourth shots of Salk vaccine will be available at the Marin County Health Department tomorrow until Feb. 8, when the present supply of vaccine will become outdated, Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, health officer, announced today.

The fourth shot will be given to anyone whose third inoculation was given at least one year ago. The added booster inoculation is particularly recommended for pre-schoolers whose immunity may be less long-lasting than that of older persons, said Dr. Albrecht.

State Speed Limit Of 60 MPH Urged

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A rigid 60-mile-an-hour speed limit—ranging up to 70 in safe areas—is being offered as a substitute for California's present flexible 55 mile limit.

Assemblyman Walter I. Dahl, (R-Oakland) introduced a bill yesterday which would boost the limit to 60 and provide a 65 to 70 m.p.h. top in areas approved after a traffic survey.

Present posted limits in populated areas would be retained and a flexible state maximum of 30 miles an hour set for U.S. highways in business and residential districts.

Educators To Ask Supervisors For 2nd Hall Teacher

A fluctuating enrollment at the County Juvenile Hall in Lucas Valley has brought a recommendation from the county board of education to the county board of supervisors that a part-time teacher be hired at $2,800 for the balance of the fiscal year.

Enrollment in the one-room school fluctuates between nine and 20 pupils, said Edwin L. Blackmore, administrative assistant to the county superintendent.

The county school administration has found it necessary to hire a second teacher "off and on for the past two and one-half months," according to Richard L. Foster, the outgoing county superintendent, to help Robert Manthey, full-time Juvenile Hall teacher.

Merger Hints Of Pay Raises For Teachers

Teachers in the Novato School District may look forward to "improved salary schedules" if voters of Novato and San Jose School Districts decide to unify their districts at a special election Tuesday, according to the San Jose-Novato Unification Fact-Finding Committee.

The prediction is based on the experience of other school districts which have been unified, reports the committee, citing the Sierra Plumas Joint Unified, Mariposa County Unified and Tahoe-Truckee Unified Districts.

"Either immediately or soon after unification, new salary schedules for all teachers were adopted matching those of the district which was paying the higher amount before unification," the committee reported.

Present annual salary scale of the San Jose District averages about $200 more than that of the Novato District.

Jewish Survey In Marin To Reveal Needs

A study of the recreational, cultural and educational needs of Marin County's Jewish population is being made by the Jewish Welfare Federation.

Sidney Rudy of San Anselmo is chairman of a study committee exaluating how effectively the Marin Jewish Community Center, at its present location in San Rafael, is serving the Jewish population and determining whether changes should be made in the center's program.

The study, part of a general survey of leisure-time needs of Jews in San Francisco, the San Francisco peninsula and Marin, is being financed by a $6,200 grant from the San Francisco Foundation and funds from the Jewish Welfare Federation.

In connection with the survey, parlor meetings ranging from Sausalito to Novato will be held in the homes of persons interested in analyzing the specific needs of their communities. Findings of these groups will be used in planning Jewish leisure-time programs and facilities in Marin.

Serving with Rudy on the Marin study committee are Julius H. Selinger, Dr. Jacob S. Margoliash, Fred Kerr, Rabbi Morton Hoffman, Mrs. Robert Golyn, Dr. Meyer Abel, Mrs. Richard Newman and Irving R. Newman. The group is being assisted by Leo Okin, field secretary of the National Jewish Welfare Board, and Robert Forman, planning assistant to the Jewish Welfare Federation.

Davis Goes On Trial March 10 In Fatal Shooting Of Wife

A Marin City garbage man, who shot his common-law wife to death on Christmas Eve, faces a murder trial in Marin Superior Court on March 10.

Prince Sam Davis, 34, of Building B-1, apartment 535, pleaded innocent before Judge Jordan L. Martinelli and asked for a jury trial. He is defended by Public Defender Leonard Thomas.

Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich estimated the trial may take two weeks.

Davis is accused of murdering Viola Baker, 32, after an argument in their home. Sheriff's Inspector William Bradley said Davis apparently held their 9-month-old son in his right arm and shot his wife at close range. She died instantly with bullets through the heart and the left shoulder.

Davis called the sheriff and turned himself in.

Gautama Sidderthe, founder of Buddhism, was born in India in the year 563 B.C.

'Wife And I Disagree On Necking (Husband Thinks Girls Shouldn't)

TEEN-AGE NECKING

Mr. A. G. "My wife and I disagree about necking. I think we should teach our girls that necking is wrong. She says she enjoyed necking with boys. She thinks our daughters should have the chance. What do you think?

Reply. I agree with you. The physical responses of teen-agers come fast. Controls are weak. Trouble often follows. As a guidance counselor I'm called upon frequently to help repair the damage necking does. However, your wife is not alone. Many modern parents feel as she does. I think they're making a terrible mistake.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Dr. R. T. "You were quoted as predicting a percentage decline in juvenile delinquency. How can you come to that conclusion?"

Reply. By studying juveniles. I predicted the present high delinquency rate too. It is caused by the unusually large proportion of rebellious, emotionally unstable kids now in their teens. Soon they'll reach their twenties. The younger group coming along contains few troublemakers. Adult delinquency will rise. Juvenile delinquency will drop. It's a safe prediction.

WIDOW'S BOY

Mrs. B. T. "I'm a widow. My only child is a boy of 17. Recently re returned from reform school. Now he is quarreling with the parents of a 14-year-old girl. He dated her twice. They found out about his record, and won't let her go with him again. They say if he comes to their home once more they'll have him arrested. That would mean a return to the reform school. Why are they so cruel to my boy? What can I do to help him?"

Reply. I'm sure they don't intend to be cruel. They're trying to protect their daughter. She is younger, and vulnerable. His reputation has alarmed them. It is up to him to prove by good behavior that the reputation is wrong. You'll help your boy most by urging him not to try to see the girl again. Suggest that he look for a girl closer to his own age who already knows about his past.

Marin Masonic Lodge Inducts Officer Staff Saturday

A new slate of officers of Marin Lodge 191, Free and Accepted Masons, headed by William M. Vanderbilt as worshipful master, will be installed Saturday.

The installation program is set for 8 p.m. in the San Rafael Masonic Temple, preceded by a dinner at 6:30 p.m. Frank W. Boileau, past master, will be installing officer.

Vanderbilt, the new worshipful master, is assistant to the secretary of California Packing Corp. in San Francisco. He resides at 115 Jordan avenue, San Anselmo.

William P. Murray of San Rafael, president of the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael, will be installed as treasurer for the 46th time.

Dr. John J. Canoles, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, will be installed as chaplain for his 30th time.

Other officers to be inducted are: Thomas W. King, senior warden; Lester H. Hicks, junior warden; Warren H. Williams, secretary; Donald F. Murray, senior deacon; Lawrence P. McNear Jr., junior deacon; Eugene Peeples, marshal; William Rattray, organist; Merrill E. Hinrichs, senior steward; Wesley W. Honeyman, junior steward, and Thomas J. Meek, tiler.

William M. Baxter will be master of ceremonies, assisted by Arthur E. Hessel, the retiring master. Soloists will be Andrew G. Robertson and John Teel, with Nolo Miller as accompanist. George T. Rowse will be inspector for the 314th Masonic District.

Two Demo Lawyers Named Mosk Aides

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Two Democratic lawyers will be top aides to Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk.

Democrat Mosk Tuesday named Richard R. Rogan, 44, as his chief deputy and Charles A. O'Brien, as assistant.

Rogan, of Burbank, has taken part in Democratic campaigns since 1946. O'Brien, from San Francisco, is former treasurer of the California Democratic Council.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

KTIM Panel To Discuss New Marin City Project

The controversial alternate plan of builder James H. Scheuer for redevelopment of Marin City will be discussed by four panelists from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow on the KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" program.

Panel members will be Allen Oakley Hunter, attorney for the Scheuer organization; Mrs. M. E. Beard, member of the Marin City Tenants Council; Mrs. Mary Summers, county planning director, and Carl Spring of Sausalito.

The program, to be moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m. from a tape recording. Listeners' questions will be answered by the panelists during tomorrow's broadcast.

Kindred Appointed Radio Station Chief

Appointment of Robert N. Kindred as general manager of KJBS, San Francisco radio station, was announced today by Edwin P. Franklin of 22 Bosque avenue, Fairfax, resident partner.

Franklin said it is the station's first major change in management since 1944, when KJBS was sold to the present owners. Franklin will continue in his present capacity.

KJBS is seeking permission from the Federal Communications Commission to build a 50,000-watt transmitter. Kindred said it would make KJBS the most powerful independent radio station in the Bay Area.

Unforgettable Trip

ENID, Okla. (AP)—James Floyd Bowen probably will never forget his trip home to Detroit from Enid.

He was bitten on the finger by a skunk here and en route home had to stop each day to take an anti-rabies vaccination.
